Natural gas rules costly to consumers

WASHINGTON (AP) — Expensive natural gas from abroad has been sold in the United States over the past few years while the Federal Power Commission was barring some sales of far cheaper domestic supplies.

The commission, which regulates the prices charged for natural gas sold to interstate pipelines, rejected many of the proposed sales of domestic gas on grounds that the projected price was too high.

Yet the commission's own figures show that frequently the rejected domestic gas prices were as little as one-third the eventual price of the foreign shipments.

The result was price increases for gas consumers.

Rush Moody Jr., vice chairman of the FPC, charged that many commission rate decisions amount to "regulatory capriciousness."

"If somebody stands back away from us and looks at many of the things we do, I don't think we can be logically defended," Moody said in an interview.

A spokesman for the power commission said the prices approved for the foreign gas were for supplies delivered to the East Coast cities where the gas was to be used.

He said the domestic prices involved in the FPC ruling were wellhead prices, without delivery costs included.

"If you add on the delivery costs for the domestic gas, the prices go much higher," he said.

However, FPC figures show that even after delivery, the domestic gas doesn't approach the cost of the foreign gas.

FPC Chairman John Nassikas testified before a House subcommittee Jan. 17 that the foreign gas was necessary because of an impending nationwide gas shortage that would be much worse without the foreign supplies.

Producers claim that current U.S. shortages of natural gas can be traced, at least in part, to the FPC-regulated rates. The rates are too low to provide sufficient profit margin to encourage the expensive, high-risk process of new gas exploration, the producers say.

House panel eyes impeachment data

WASHINGTON (AP) — House impeachment investigators are searching the history books for clues to what the Founding Fathers had in mind when they wrote impeachment into the Constitution.

Special Counsel John W. Doar said Thursday that lawyers on the staff of the Judiciary Committee are beginning their inquiry by studying what constitutes an impeachable offense.

The key question to be decided is what the phrase "high crimes and misdemeanors" means.

That's what the Constitution defines as impeachable offenses and in the nearly 200 years since the words were written there has been controversy over their meaning.

The close parallel between the words and terms used in criminal law have convinced many scholars — and all persons threatened with impeachment — that only misconduct punishable under criminal law warrants impeachment.

But other experts and the precedents of previous House impeachments support the view that even gross derelictions of duty that fall short of criminal behavior can be impeachable offenses.

Doar, following a meeting with the senior Judiciary Committee members who are guiding the investigation, said the staff is working on a legal brief that will set forth a definition to be used in the Nixon impeachment inquiry.

He said the brief should be ready in mid-February, at which time public hearings on it may be held by the committee.

Congress attacks oil profits

WASHINGTON (AP) — Reports of record oil company profits have prompted an outpouring of bills aimed at rolling back the price of domestic crude oil and taking away some of the oil industry's tax breaks.

Meanwhile, energy chief William E.

Simon returns to Capitol Hill today for a third straight day.

Simon is scheduled to testify before Sen. Henry M. Jackson's investigations subcommittee, which has been probing the extent of the energy crisis. He spent the past two days testifying before a Senate Finance subcommittee considering establishment of an energy trust fund.

Jackson, D-Wash., predicted Thursday that the Senate next week would pass the emergency energy bill authorizing President Nixon to order gasoline rationing.

Senate Majority Leader Mike Mansfield, D-Mont., filed a cloture petition Thursday aimed at thwarting the threat of a filibuster. Republicans and oilstate senators object to a provision in the bill that would put a lid on excess profits earned by the oil industry as result of fuel shortages. A vote on the debate-ending petition is scheduled for Monday.

The bill's controversial excess profits provision would authorize the President to set prices on petroleum products that would prevent windfall profits by the oil companies.

Three of the nation's largest oil companies reported on Thursday large profit increases in 1973.

Mobil Oil Co., the nation's second largest oil company, reported a 47 per cent profit increase in 1973 compared to

Freshman legislator pushes bill to cut welfare costs

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Rep. Gene Damschroder, R-95 Fremont, wants to consolidate the Welfare Department and the Bureau of Employment Services to reduce welfare costs "up to 50 per cent."

The freshman legislator offered his proposal Thursday as the House and Senate moved promptly through brief floor sessions and quit work until next Tuesday.

Nine new bills were introduced in the House, including Damschroder's. Rep. Thomas J. Carney, D-71 Youngstown, and 13 other Democrats offered Gov. John J. Gilligan's emergency energy bill.

Among the other proposals was one by Rep. Thomas Fries, D-35 Dayton, who wants to exempt mortgage bankers from the eight per cent interest ceiling on first mortgage real estate loans.

In floor action, the House voted 89-1 to confer legal status upon the medical school at Wright State University at Dayton. The move represents a setback to supporters of a recent governor's task force report that suggests plans for the Dayton facility should be abandoned, along with another medical school in northeast Ohio.

Rep. Thomas P. Gilmartin, D-71 Youngstown, joined a chorus of speakers who denounced the report, and charged that Regents Chancellor James Norton "is trying to divide us" with a recommendation that the state act now to develop only one new medical school.

"I told him that the legislature has spoken in this matter ... we resent it. I hope the bureaucrats find it out and get in line," Gilmartin told the House. His district would benefit from the northeast facility, created by law last year to serve the University of Akron, Kent State and Youngstown State Universities.

Rep. Donald J. Pease, D-54 Oberlin, cast the only dissenting vote, but said he did so only because the legislature has not had time to evaluate the facts in the task force report. "I think they may be all wet, but the point is, I don't know," the House education chairman told his colleagues.

The bill now goes to the Senate.

Without dissent, the House gave its approval to a bill asked by Democrats seeking to use Ohio's May primary for the election of 64 delegates to a Democratic National Committee policy conference next December.

Two bills were up for Senate action, and both passed unanimously. They allow witnesses to a will to sign affidavits stating that the will is valid, and require the Department of Rehabilitation and Correction to report annually on the operation of probation and parole programs. Such reports now are required of the Adult Parole Authority.

Damschroder received national publicity last year for his futile proposal to use sterilization as a means of cutting welfare rolls. He is scheduled to appear on an upcoming segment of CBS' "60 Minutes" television program to discuss that idea.

In his latest move, the Fremont airport operator and private pilot referred to Ohio's "giant welfare system" and said that aside from the blind, elderly, and disabled, it "consists of young, healthy, and able to work people who either could or should want to go to work."

Putting the welfare and employment agencies under one roof, he said, "will result in a more economical operation and could save up to 50 per cent compared to the present waste."

Gilligan's energy bill, as announced earlier, would give him the authority to create a state energy office, a state energy board, and appoint an energy administrator to implement federal energy legislation and requirements.

Trucks shut down at 3 Ohio points

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Groups of independent truck operators conducted protests at three points in Ohio Thursday to show their displeasure with high fuel prices and low freight rates.

A group of Lorain County truckers stopped trucks on Ohio 18 near Wellington Thursday night and asked the drivers to pull over and stop for the night.

The State Highway Patrol said some trucks were being stopped also at points on U.S. 20 near Oberlin.

Patrolmen were unable to say how many trucks were involved.

The Lorain County drivers stopped an estimated 300 trucks on Ohio 18 Wednesday night.

One trucker who was pulled off Ohio 18 and directed into the Lorain County fairgrounds complained that he had a wife and family on the West Coast.

David Crawford of Wellington, vice president of the county chapter of the Owners-Operators Club, retorted: "I got a wife and family too, and a $40,000 rig here."

In Youngstown, a union leader said about 300 truckers went out to demonstrate at truck stops and factories following a protest rally.

Ed Heugle, president of Steelworkers Local 1, said the truckers were "really mad." Heugle, acting as a spokesman for the independent truckers, said the drivers "plan to stay out until they (meaning the government) put something in writing for us."

Heugle said a major demand is for a ceiling on fuel prices. He said 37.9 cents a gallon is "about the top price we could operate with and still make a profit."

Alleged price gouging by oil dealers was a primary gripe of five East Liverpool area truckers who met with government representatives to air their complaints.

Winfield Durst of Columbus, president of the Ohio Dump Truck Operators Association, said after the East Liverpool meeting a planned national trucking shutdown still is set for Jan. 31 "and this is definite."

Durst said owner-operators are demanding a ceiling price on all petroleum products and a rollback to 31.9 cents per gallon for diesel fuel."

Nixon school funding plan applauded

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon's proposal to let school districts know a year in advance how much federal aid they will get has been hailed by education associations and two key congressmen.

But other aspects of the special education message sent to Congress on Thursday were viewed as inadequate.

Helen D. Wise, president of the National Education Association, said she was "encouraged by the general tone" of the message and "especially pleased that it calls for advanced funding of education."

But she called for higher federal aid to education. Nixon's proposed $180-million boost in aid to elementary and secondary education next school year represents "only a minuscule effort in the federal government's commitment to finance the nation's schools," she said.

The NEA leader complained that the federal share of the education dollar has been steadily decreasing, from 8.8 per cent in 1968 to 7.5 per cent this year.

Rep. Carl D. Perkins, D-Ky., and Albert H. Quie, R-Minn., chairman and ranking minority member of the House Education and Labor Committee, added their endorsements to Nixon's proposal to begin advance funding through a supplemental appropriation this spring.

EGIL KROGH JR.

Krogh says Nixon issued no orders

WASHINGTON (AP) — Egil Krogh Jr. says he received no orders from President Nixon to send burglars into the office of Daniel Ellsberg's psychiatrist and that he has no information that could implicate the President.

But Krogh, sentenced Thursday to six months in prison for his role in the break-in, skirted the question of where the orders originated because the matter will come before the courts.

"I would simply say that I considered that a break-in was within the authority of the unit and that I did not act to foreclose one from occurring despite the opportunity to do so."

Asked if he had information that would implicate John D. Ehrlichman, his former boss and one-time top aide to Nixon — Krogh replied: "I don't know."

Ehrlichman had given the unit — known as the plumbers — authority to engage in covert activity to obtain information on Ellsberg, then identified as responsible for the leak of the Pentagon papers.

Ehrlichman has pleaded innocent to a California indictment charging conspiracy, burglary and perjury in the case. He is scheduled for trial in April along with David R. Young Jr. and G. Gordon Liddy.

Krogh had pleaded guilty to one count of conspiring to violate the rights of Dr. Lewis Fielding, Ellsberg's psychiatrist, whose files were rifled Sept. 3, 1971. Krogh could have been sentenced to 10 years in prison and a $10,000 fine.

But Judge Gerhard A. Gesell said "apart from this offense" Krogh's public service was exceptional and that he had been assigned "a wholly improper, illegal task ... by higher authority."

Krogh is the first high-level White House aide to be sent to prison in the Watergate aftermath.

As he had told Gesell earlier about his role in the burglary, Krogh told newsmen: "It was a terrible mistake on my part; I regret it more than I can say."

Britons keep stiff upper lip in country's 'darkest hour'

LONDON (AP) — In Britain's darkest hour since its Darkest Hour, the natives are still going about their business by gaslight and more or less cheerfully coping. Especially the Quality.

Lord Hesketh has mothballed his helicopter for the duration, and so has Sir Hugh Fraser. The P&O liner Canberra, wending westward with 1,700 orphans of the storm, has shrunk the world and eliminated Canada, the Virgin Islands and part of the Indian Ocean from its world cruise to save fuel.

Bankers and brokers in the City, the financial district beyond St. Paul's, are concerned about an increase in office lechery amid the Edwardian gloom of the gas lamps. Some of the more liberated birds are putting their bras back on to cool the ardor of the benighted knights of the water cooler.

Now more than a month old, Britain's woes began to accumulate when the nation's coal miners, whose output sustains the power stations, refused to work overtime because Prime Minister

Edward Heath's inflation controls kept them from getting the raises they demanded.

To conserve electricity, the government put the country on a three-day work week. Meanwhile, the train engineers staged a slowdown to advance their pay claims and caused havoc in the ranks of the commuters, especially those coming in from the posh "stockbrokers' belt."

The Spirit of Dunkirk is abroad in the land once again. People are running about shouting "put out that light." The Electricity Board has coined the slogan "S.O.S. — Switch Off Something" — and urged housewives to avoid using electric ovens and turn the heat and lights on in only one room.

On days when there is no electricity, some shops and firms send the staff home at noon.

"What with the trains late and the short day, by the time you make the tea, it's time to go home," complained — or perhaps enthused — an elderly switchboard operator at one of the city's more venerable banking houses.

Report use of marijuana damaging to body defenses

NEW YORK (AP) — Regular smoking of marijuana weakens the human body's immune defenses against disease, a medical team reports.

It said the defect was found among men and women 16 to 35 years old who had smoked either marijuana or hashish at least once a week for more than one year. The average was four times a week for four years.

Specifically, one finding was a decreased ability of certain white blood cells, which defend the body against illness, to interact with "foreign" substances in a test-tube.

Cell division in this type of cell also was inhibited in marijuana-users compared with nonusers, said the specialists from Columbia University's College of Physicians and Surgeons. The study represents the first direct evidence of cellular damage in humans from marijuana, said Dr. Gabriel Nahas, research professor of anesthesiology and head of the team.

Nahas called for a review of findings of the National Commission on Marijuana, saying doctors "should not accept those recommendations ... which might lead to marijuana legalization without further analysis of all the facts, especially those that are now being collected by researchers on a molecular level."

Nahas said the researchers also observed that marijuana products accumulate in the germ cells of the testes and ovaries, the human sex glands.

"It is therefore most urgent to find out to what extent longterm marijuana use" might "possibly affect adversely the offspring of the marijuana user," he said.

TV Viewing

By JAY SHARBUTT
AP Television Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Broadcasting's coverage of sporting events has grown by leaps and bounds in recent years. But chess is ignored because it neither leaps nor bounds. It just sits there and moves now and then.
But a guy named Frank Brady is trying to fill this gap for a while. On national radio, no less. He's been reporting and analyzing the moves in four major chess matches for two weeks now.
The winner in the finals plays Bobby Fischer for the world title next year. The most prominent match this week, occurring in Puerto Rico, is between Russia's Boris Spassky and Robert Byrne of the United States.
But chess fans needn't frantically dial around for Brady's play-by-play report. There isn't any, and thank heavens.
Brady, who estimates the board bouts average five hours a game, only comes on for 5 to 10 minutes, Tuesdays and Fridays, on the National Public Radio system linking 167 stations in most of the United States.
So what he'll do is summarize each match, "try to give the essence of what went on" and perhaps interview one or two chess experts on what went wrong or may happen in a given game.
An international arbiter of the World Chess Federation and author of books on Fischer and chess strategy, Brady said he'd given the most coverage this week to the big SpasskyByrne match.
It's not his first fling at chess broadcasting. Two summers ago, he went to Iceland to report on the famous SpasskyFischer duels by phone for three California radio stations, plus a public TV show that made a brief star out of New York chess champ Shelby Lyman.

However, he isn't at the Spassky-Byrne match. So how does he cover it?
"What I've been doing for the most part is going to Manhattan," said Brady, 39, a resident of Moorestown, N.J. "At the Marshall Chess Club, in New York, they get the moves, move by move, by open telephone line from San Juan.
"And I've been going there every Monday, Wednesday and Friday and sitting there, analyzing the game as they go along, interviewing people, getting comments and trying to put it all together for a five-minute show."
Does he think his descriptions of the games would be intelligible to listeners with only a hazy idea of chess?
"Oh, yes," he said. "They may not specifically know what I'm talking about, for example, when I start talking about 'Sicilian defenses' or 'Ruy Lopez.'"
This is true. However, he emphasized, "I try to make it as simple as possible because I'm not trying to appeal to the diehard chess player, but to persons who just know the basic moves."
NPR says Brady's chess reports, to continue until the playoff matches end, appear at the end of NPR's regular "All Things Considered" program, which most stations carry from 5 to 6:30 p.m.

Javits pushes for decision

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Jacob K. Javits has called for early action on the impeachment resolution against President Nixon now before a House committee.
"I believe we have an absolute right to insist on early action on the impeachment resolution," the New York Republican told reporters at his bi-weekly news conference.
"The national urgency is great to settle this question," he said.
Javits said the the impeachment prerequisite of alleged "high crimes and misdemeanors" means to him "a finding of unfitness to continue in office of the President of the United States ... for basic cause, on good evidence."
Javits said he is "fully prepared to vote on the basis of conscience" if the Senate tries Nixon.
Asked if he thought the President were guilty of an impeachable offense, he said: "I have not arrived at such a judgement."

Ohio Perspective

Change in state jury rules eyed

By ROBERT E. MILLER
Associated Press Writer
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A Ravenna legislator is pushing for a law that would allow Ohioans serving on juries to go to lunch where they please unless they are considering an alleged capital crime.

Rep. Marcus A. Roberto, D-62 Ravenna, said, "some courts in the state are allowing jurors to separate for lunch. Others are not. I think it's a question that should be resolved."

The 42-year-old Ravenna High School teachers cited the example in his own area in which a court allowed jurors to split up for lunch. The verdict went to Ohio's 11th District Court of Appeals, which reversed the verdict because the jurors were permitted to disband, Roberto said.

He said other appeals courts in Ohio have made conflicting decisions. "This bill seeks to settle it and make the courts uniform in this matter," he said.

Present law provides that a court, except in cases where the offense charged may be punishable by death, may permit the jurors to separate during overnight adjournment of court. Roberto's bill adds the words "for lunch or" preceding the word "overnight."

The Gilligan administration, like the Rhodes administration before it, likes friends to go along when the governor appears before a joint session of the Ohio Senate and House.

This year, as usual, reserved signs draped chairs around the lower walls and aisles and in the balcony. Most of the reservations were for cabinet officials, administration employees and families admitted by ticket only.

Their applause made it all look good for Gov. John J. Gilligan, especially in front of statewide television cameras.

Republicans acknowledged that former GOP Gov. James A. Rhodes did the same thing for his "state of the state" speeches, but they contended the practice should be halted.

"It looked like a Democratic prayer meeting out there," said Sen. Michael J. Maloney, R-7 Cincinnati.

Sen. Paul R. Matia, R-25 Westlake, a leader among Republicans pushing for reform of Ohio's campaign financing laws, says failure to pass such reforms kept him out of the 23rd Congressional District race this year.

Caution on counterintelligence

Congress should think through the implications very carefully before acting on a request by the Federal Bureau of Investigation for authority to mount a counterintelligence drive under certain circumstances. Disclosure of FBI activities along this line in the recent past counsels the most cautious approach to granting any such authority.

The proposal made by FBI Director Clarence M. Kelley has a kind of surface plausibility. He envisions law authorizing "a stopgap type of operation" pending more explicit congressional action to deal with a national emergency.

Yet even with the agency barred from determining on its own that an emergency justifying counterintelligence operations existed, the concept is fraught with danger. For by "counterintelligence" is meant subversion and disruption of groups outside the mainstream. Any interference with political activity, however unpopular, must be hedged about with tight constitutional safeguards.

Some fair conclusions

The White House is legally on solid ground in its insistence that no one should make "premature judgments" about the cause of a gap in the tape record of the Nixon-Haldeman conversation three days after the Watergate break-in. Pending the outcome of the court's inquiry into the matter, judgment must be reserved as to who is responsible for this loss of significant evidence in the case.

This does not rule out some preliminary conclusions, and certainly has not prevented their being reached by a great many people. One is that prior explanations offered, first by White House lawyers and later by the President's secretary, Rose Mary Woods, simply do not hold water. Another is that, except in the unlikely event that the findings of a panel of experts are successfully challenged, we now know someone deliberately tampered with this tape.

A third conclusion naturally follows. It is that the credibility of President Nixon has been further undermined by the disclosure that there were at least five and perhaps as many as nine erasures on the tape. That in turn leads to still another conclusion which in our judgment is incontrovertible - that Mr. Nixon's credibility cannot be restored until he demonstrates, as former Attorney General Elliot L. Richardson put it, "that all the facts in his possession in the Watergate matter have been made available to the proper authorities."

We see no other way for the President to let off the new head of steam generated in the push for impeachment by the latest tapes disclosure. No amount of effort to convey the impression that he is in full command of the nation's foreign policy and is dealing effectively with the energy crisis and inflation will change this.

Whether or not Mr. Nixon is able to carry on as chief executive in the face of the Watergate scandal is not perceived by the American people as the central issue. They want to know what went on, and who did it, and why, and we believe they will not be satisfied until clear answers are forthcoming.

WASHINGTON CALLING . . . by Marquis Childs

Hang on to your helmets

WASHINGTON — Get ready for a shock. The rumor on Capitol Hill is that the defense budget for fiscal year 1975 will be $93 billion. This will be up from the actual spending for the current year of $79 billion.

That is a startling measure of the inflation that is spiraling upward so fast. For the $93 billion, if that is the figure unveiled in coming weeks, includes no new developments. It covers only on-going programs. The increase is due largely to inflationary price rises and to pay increases.

AN APPRAISAL by the congressional joint economic committee put the total for '75 at $86 billion. But this did not include possible new obligations of $5 billion to $6 billion which may be included in the budget request.

The Department of Defense is expected to come in shortly with a supplemental request of $2.3 to $3 billion. That would go in part for aid to Israel and South Vietnam. It is also to upgrade strategic readiness which was revealed by the Middle East alert as lagging.

But this is only part of the shock to come. The likelihood is for massive new weapons systems that will cost many additional billions of dollars. That can be surmised from the Delphic utterances of Secretary of Defense James R. Schlesinger about "retargeting" of America's nuclear striking force.

Translated from the dense vocabulary of the nuclear weaponeers, this signifies a whole new nuclear strategy that has thus far been only dimly perceived outside the small circle of those who determine these matters. It would be hard to exaggerate the portentous nature of this change for it means a shift from mutual deterrence to a counterforce.

Retargeted ICBM missiles would be capable, in theory at least, of knocking out Soviet silos rather than destroying Soviet cities in response to a nuclear attack on the United States. This opens the way to a "nuclear war fighting capability," as the war planners call it, rather than deterrence which has kept the peace for 20 years.

Even if retargeting could assure that military targets would be hit, and this is far from certain, there is no assurance that a nuclear exchange would not go on to destruction of the cities of each side. And the Soviet Union would have reason to believe that the counterforce coming into being might well be a first strike capability. Thus, the whole nuclear structure would be shaken to its foundations with consequences impossible to foresee.

With retargeting requiring a vast array of new nuclear weapons costing billions of dollars, the prospect for any agreement out of SALT II which resumes in Geneva at the end of the month are dimming to the vanishing point.

It has long been true that what one side gets the other side is sure to strive for and so the see saw goes onward and upward.

A STRANGE commentary is how little any of this gets through to the public. One reason may be that minds are closed to what seems beyond the comprehension of the average person and so fearful in its meaning that the only recourse is to shut it out. So Schlesinger and the top level weaponeers have the field to themselves. As the New York Times put it in a powerful editorial:

"The strategy of deterrence has preserved the world from nuclear holocaust for two decades. Unpleasant as it is to live under the nuclear sword of Damocles, the wisdom of trading it in for this dangerous new doctrine is highly doubtful — and surely deserves more national debate than it has yet received."

But one thing the average citizen does understand and that is the rapidly rising cost of everything from a gallon of gasoline to a loaf of bread. While the Defense Department has reduced its fuel needs, a spokesman recently testified that the Pentagon's fuel bill would go up this year between $750 million and $1 billion. Military inflation across the board is contributing to the cost squeeze that hits every household budget.

Can this go on into the indefinite future? No one in the Administration up to this point has an answer. A great deal of hand wringing goes on as each month's figures show the spiral up once again.

Big military spending is sure to be another kicker.

Perk enters GOP race for Senate

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)—Mayor Ralph J. Perk announced Thursday he will seek Republican nomination for the U.S. Senate now held by another Cleveland, Howard M. Metzenbaum. The three most important issues in his campaign will be integrity in government, inflation and the energy crisis, Perk said.

He also said that he will "continue to devote myself to my duties as mayor" but that during the last month of the campaign, "I will take myself off the payroll."

He spoke from an improvised conference table in the frostwhitened front yard of his near East Side home, apologizing to shivering newsmen that the house wasn't large enough to permit holding the meeting indoors — and then invited reporters in for coffee.

From the shallow yard fronting on a narrow street, Perk can look out over the smokey industrial centers in the deep valley of the Cuyahoga River. Mrs. Perk and two of their children were with the mayor as he spoke to newsmen.

Metzenbaum, a wealthy businessman and attorney, took office earlier this month on appointment by Gov. John J. Gilligan to replace William Saxbe, who became attorney general. Metzenbaum has said he will seek election to the post.

Living together OK with students

ITHACA, N.Y. (AP)—Most of the 300 students surveyed at Cornell University believed living with someone of the opposite sex without being married was an acceptable practice, a researcher says.

About one-third of those surveyed admitted sharing a bedroom with a student of the opposite sex, said Prof. Eleanor Macklin of Cornell's State College of Human Ecology.

Cohabitation was defined as "sharing a bedroom (and/or a bed) with someone of the opposite sex four or more nights a week for three or more consecutive months."

Only 7 per cent of the students who responded to a 32-page questionnaire said they would not live with someone of the opposite sex given the proper partner.

"Contrary to much older generation opinion, spending the night together, even in the same bed, need not imply a full sexual relationship," she said.

Daylight time confuses barman

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — Daylight Saving Time confused him and that's why he kept his bar open an hour past the legal closing time on Jan. 6, Willie Perry told the City Alcohol Commission.

"I told the ladies to set the clocks backward instead of forward that night," said Perry, manager of the Manhattan Club.

He testified Wednesday at a hearing on whether his license should be lifted.

Police said their visit was on the morning year-round Daylight Saving Time took effect, but the commission suspended the club's license for a week.

Hal Boyle . . . Down Memory Lane

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) — Memory is man's greatest crutch and most dependable hope.

When times are bad, he is cheered by remembering worse days he survived and found joy again. Memory tells him there is no reason the miracle cannot be repeated. And so, as memory deepens, so does hope.

You've got quite a heartfelt of memories yourself if you can look back and remember when —

Herbert Hoover was perhaps the most admired man in America for his relief work among the refugees of World War I.

The only time the average man went to a dentist was when he had to have a tooth pulled. If it proved a real tug-of-war, the dentist would sometimes reward the patient with a free shot of bourbon or rye.

About all that young boys knew of the mysteries of sex they learned from watching a girl's school gym class work out in middies and bloomers.

Doctors never had to worry about running out of gasoline as they drove horses and buggies.

People began to gossip about a young couple if they went to an amusement park and made more than two trips through the Tunnel of Love.

Your literary tastes were regarded as pretty low if you were seen reading a paperback book.

Dogs were born and lived out their lives without ever having to undergo the indignity of wearing a collar and leash.

During the summer in small towns the liveliest place after midnight was in the local cemetery.

During winter at least a third of the pupils in the nation's grammar schools usually had runny noses.

Being poor was no disgrace. No matter how bad times were, a man usually had at least one neighbor who he felt was worse off than himself.

Heaven to a young man was Saturday night and two whole dollars of his own to spend on his best girl.

A showoff was a guy who openly bragged that he had been up in an airplane not just once but twice.

The largest bill most people had seen was a $20. The bank was the only place where you could cash a $50 bill — and even then the teller usually wouldn't do it until he had conferred with one of the officers.

If you failed at something, you didn't run to a welfare board. The prevailing philosophy was "try, try again."

Those were the days — remember?

Liquor cost to increase

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Liquor in Ohio will cost more this spring, almost seven per cent more, the head of the state Department of Liquor Control said today.

Richard E. Guggenheim said liquor manufacturers have to pay more for their raw materials, and they'll pass the extra costs on to the consumers.

He said some distillers, as an alternative, may reduce the alcohol content of their products.

"I feel the prices are high enough for the consumer right now," the director said. "We're making every effort to keep the prices down, even if we have to reduce our own profits."

Guggenheim said Ohioans spent more than $342.6 million on liquor in 1973, an increase of 2.72 per cent over 1972 sales.

Dear Abby:

ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

Stock market triggers blood pressure

DEAR ABBY: Every time the stock market goes DOWN 10 points, my husband's blood pressure goes UP 30 points. I'm afraid one of these days he's going to drop dead.

He has quite a lot invested in the market, but thank God, not everything. I never look at the stock market reports in the newspaper anymore. And when it comes on the news over the radio, I turn it off. I figure there's nothing I can do about it anyway, so why spoil my day, right?

I've been trying to get my husband to quit following the market so closely for his own good, but he won't listen to me. The minute he walks through the door I can tell how the market was by looking at his face. He's never had a real heart attack-only a "warning." Don't you think if he got out of the market altogether he'd live longer?

PEGGY

DEAR PEGGY: Not if he sold his stock at 40 and it went up to 120! If your husband follows (a) his doctor's advice, and (b) his broker's advice, he could be in good shape for a long time. Don't nag him.

DEAR ABBY: My sister fell in love with a guy who made her pregnant. When she told him about it he offered her money for an abortion but she refused because she didn't believe in abortion, so instead she went to a home for unwed mothers.

After she had her baby she was told she couldn't leave the hospital unless she signed some papers. They said the papers were nothing-just a routine matter, and she had six months to decide whether she wanted to keep her baby or give it up for adoption.

Of course she signed the papers and left. Two months later she went back to get her baby and was told that they have given her baby away! She is heartbroken now and is getting sick over it.

She went to the District Attorney and also to the lawyers at Legal Aid, and they either couldn't or wouldn't help her get her baby back. Abby, we aren't rich people but we would do anything to help her. Can you help us?

HER FAMILY

DEAR FAMILY: Yes. Please send me your name and address. Also the name of the home for unwed mothers where your sister had her baby.

DEAR ABBY: I just read in the newspaper where a 238-pound woman wanted to get down to 124 pounds so she could wear a bikini like her teen-age daughter, so she had a dentist cement her teeth together to keep her from eating. She'll live on liquids until she gets down to the desired weight, then the dentist will remove the cement from her teeth.

Can you please find out who that dentist is, and how much he'd charge to do the same thing on my wife? Her problem isn't eating, it's talking.

HAD IT IN NASHVILLE

DEAR HAD IT: The dentist is in England. And I doubt if he'd do it for the reason you suggest.

Today In History

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Today is Friday, Jan. 25, the 25th day of 1974. There are 340 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On this date in 1915, Alexander Graham Bell spoke the first words on the first transcontinental telephone linking New York and San Francisco.

On this date: In 1579, the Union of Utrecht was signed. It marked the beginning of the Dutch Republic.

In 1831, the independence of Poland was declared.

In 1863, during the American Civil War, the first Negro regiment in the U.S. Army was formed.

In 1919, the Versailles Peace Conference voted in favor of the projected League of Nations.

In 1944, in World War II, the costly battle for Cassino, Italy began.

Ten years ago: A new U.S. communications satellite, Echo II, was launched from Vandenberg Air Force Base in California.

Five years ago: A string of tank cars carrying butane gas exploded in Laurel, Miss., devastating several blocks of buildings and injuring 19 persons.

One year ago: The body of former President Lyndon B. Johnson was returned to Texas for burial in a country cemetery after tributes in Washington.

Thought for today: It is always a silly thing to give advice, but to give good advice is absolutely fatal — Oscar Wilde, Irish writer, 1854-1900.

Eye commodity control system

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress and the Nixon administration are working toward a comprehensive reform of the regulatory system for the nation's booming commodity-exchange business.

During more than a year of sharp price swings, calls for overhauling the commodity-exchange law intensified in Congress. A bipartisan panel of farm-state congressmen then drafted a compromise bill in a drive to strengthen trading regulations.

The Brazen Serpent

And Moses made a serpent of brass, and put it upon a pole, and it came to pass, that if a serpent had bitten any man, when he beheld the serpent of brass, he lived. —Numbers 21: 9

Presbyterian Church hears yearly report

The Congregation of First Presbyterian Church met on Sunday evening, January 20 in Persinger Hall for the annual Report and Review. The meeting was conducted by the pastor, Gerald Wheat, with a number of reports and items of business discussed. Larry Moss was elected to fill the unexpired 2 year term of Frank Bracy on the Session of the church.

The Pastor's Report by Rev. Wheat showed 51 worship services, 9 weddings, 22 funerals, 23 baptisms, 129 meetings of boards in the church and in Presbytery work, 916 pastoral calls, 23,500 miles traveled in pastoral work, 53 counselling sessions, 14 offices held in community and Presbytery, 30 programs begun or continued in the life of the church, and church use by over 26,000 people in 900 separate meetings, during 1973.

The session report, given by clerk of the session, Bill Carson, showed 53 new members received, and a net increase of 26 members to a total of 690. Among the important programs at the church during the year was the sponsorship of Scout Troop 112 which has grown from 8 boys to 50; the church family camping trip involving 94 youth and adults in June; employment of a youth coordinator; Children's Church, and support of the work of the Gideons and the County Chaplain's program at the hospital.

The Trustees Report was given by Walter Seifried, past president of the board, showing that the major work of the board during the year was the installation of a new heating system and new carpeting and pews in the sanctuary. Many small projects were carried out for the improving of the church property.

The Deacons report, given by Tom Rankin, past President of the Board, showed many programs caring for the sick, shut-ins and newcomers; aid for transients; and receptions for new members and the sponsoring of Family Night programs.

The Women's Association report was given by Mary Marchant, past president of the Association, which totals 161 members. Many programs of concern both locally and world-wide were carried out during the year.

Church school report by George Robinson showed that there are 12 classes presently, all with teachers and assistants, including a nursery class for babies during the church school hour. Kaye Bartlett serves as assistant superintendent of the school.

Various class reports were given by adult classes, concerning their activities during the year.

The church treasurer, Perse Harlow, reported receipts into all funds of the church totalled more than $107,000. This included not only the regular budget of the church but the repair and maintenance as well.

The meeting concluded with a look into the future by the pastor, pointing out several programs and projects toward which the congregation should be looking. These include repair of the stained glass windows, and provision for increased choir facilities.

SPEAKER — Steve Seidler, the Administrator of the Norwood Baptist Christian School in Cincinnati will speak at the Sunday evening service in the Fayette Bible Church. His subject will be, "The Uniqueness of a Biblical Education," and he will use slides to illustrate his message. Active in the Christian School movement for a number of years, Mr. Seidler is an authority in his field and has built a thriving Christian elementary school. The service begins at 7:30 p.m. and everyone is invited to attend.

Church sponsored film starts soon

"Time to Run," a new film that is a mixture of problems and solutions, is scheduled to open at the Fayette Cinema Jan. 30. The full-length feature is scheduled to run through Feb. 5.

"Time to Run" allows the viewer to become involved on any one of more of three different levels. Viewed purely as entertainment, it's the story of a young man's attempts to sabotage the nuclear generating plant, conceived, designed and managed by his father. He strongly feels that the plant is a threat to the environment, and he puts his feelings in action.

Viewed on an emotional level, it is the drama of conflicts that are tearing a family apart — conflicts that develop between husband and wife, and between father and son. In an attempt to find freedom from the ever-growing hostilities, the son takes to the road, hoping to discover some meaning in his confused life.

Approached from a religious perspective, "Time to Run" is also a story of friction between the youth and his girlfriend. She has discovered a spiritual dimension in her life, and this aspect is very confusing to him since he has little time for "a God who would allow war, hatred, and suffering on earth." But his life is shattered by an avalanche of personal problems, and he finds himself at a Jesus people gathering where he glimpses the possibility of a new life-style.

Regardless of what the viewer draws from the film, it was made for families to attend — together.

Tickets are $1.50 in advance (through Jan. 28) and $2 at the door.

Every winter, LANDMARK® delivers millions of gallons of heating oil and now it's vital that every gallon be used with care.

There are many ways to conserve fuel, and save money too. Closing drapes cuts heat loss thru windows, so does proper insulation, weatherstripping, storm doors and windows. Caulking shut the cracks and openings is a must.

Set your thermostat at a comfortable level and leave it there. Moving it up and down only makes your furnace use more fuel and costs rise significantly for every degree above 70. Close off unused rooms, keep attached garages closed. Use a humidifier, less heat is required for comfort if humidity is kept at 40 to 50%.

Have your heating system checked regularly, faulty or poorly adjusted equipment wastes fuel. Clean the air filters twice a year, lubricate motors and pumps. Look around home, you'll probably find other fuel-saving ideas. And for burner service, call us.

Zesty Chinese-style spareribs

BARBECUED SPARERIBS — They're baked in the oven and benefit from a Chinese-style marinade.

Dipping into a Chinese cookbook, a friend found an interesting marinade for barbecued spareribs and from it concocted her own recipe. When we tried the adaptation we thought it was delicious and easy to prepare and so we are passing it along to you.

CHINESE-STYLE BARBECUED SPARERIBS

2-3rds cup soy sauce
2-3rds cup light or dark corn syrup
1-3rd cup dry sherry
1 clove garlic, minced
1 teaspoon monosodium glutamate, if desired

1/2 teaspoon pepper
1/2 teaspoon ground cinnamon
1/2 teaspoon ground cloves
1/2 teaspoon anise seed

4 pounds fresh pork spareribs, cut into individual whole or half ribs. In a small mixing bowl thoroughly stir together the soy sauce, corn syrup, sherry, garlic, monosodium glutamate (if used), pepper, cinnamon, clove and anise. Pour this marinade over the ribs; cover and refrigerate about 3 hours.

Cover bottom of shallow roasting pan with a small amount of water to prevent drippings from scorching. Place ribs on rack in roasting pan, reserving marinade.

Bake in a preheated 450-degree oven for 30 minutes. Remove pan from oven; remove ribs and rack and pour off water and fat; return ribs to pan and brush with marinade.

Reduce oven temperature to 350 degrees. Tightly cover pan with foil (or with roasting-pan cover if you have one) and bake 35 minutes, brushing with marinade twice. Remove foil (or other cover) and bake uncovered until crisp and tender — about 15 minutes longer.

Makes 4 servings.

To give piquancy to omelets, add grated cheddar, Swiss or Parmesan cheese. Use at least 1 tablespoon of the cheese for each egg used in the omelet.

Their thousands of true to life prints furnish the only contemporary record of the American scene, rural and urban.

She also told of the 80 choice prints in full color which she had collected and displayed. This is a book or collectors prize for the elderly and children, a treasury of American tradition for the American family. Members appreciated her time in research to collect this display.

Mrs. Ralph Davidson and Mrs. Darlene Wagner of Springfield were guests.

Coeds find ad works well

MOUNT PLEASANT, Mich. (AP) — Four Central Michigan University coeds who advertised for husbands say the effort was nothing more than an attempt to razz a male chauvinist friend.

The classified ad the four seniors from Lake Orion, Mich., placed in the student newspaper Wednesday read:

"Wanted and desperately needed: Husbands for four senior girls who have only 15 weeks to hook one, since that's what we're here for."

The girls said they received 60 responses and phone calls from newspapers as far away as Philadelphia and Atlanta.

Though they denied it on Wednesday, the women conceded on Thursday the ad was a prank.

One said it was "an effort to get even with a male-chauvinist friend" who claimed the only reason women attended college was to find a spouse.

"We're really sorry we did it, because it's gotten out of hand," one of the coeds said. "We never thought it would be taken this seriously."

The four — Laura Rupert, Pam Whitlock, Peggy Taylor and Kathy Hauxwell — said they received calls from other CWU coeds asking that they be referred to any rejected applicants.

4-H Roundup

Mrs. Jeannie Anderson
4-H Assistant

4-H ADVISORS—HERE—THERE—EVERYWHERE !!

Enthusiasm is the mainspring for the Spring 4-H enrollment program.

Believe it or not, in today's busy, busy society, adults ARE concerned about what's happening to the younger generation. Many, however, don't realize what 4-H has to offer or what a vital contribution they could make as a volunteer 4-H club advisors. The job is challenging and rewarding.

Potential advisors are everywhere seated at a banquet, working in a restaurant, attending church, clerking in a store, going to a PTA or Welcome Wagon meeting, repairing cars, teaching school, or riding a bike. Basically each person has a special interest to share with others.

4-H is a voluntary, educational program designed to meet the needs and interests of boys and girls 9-19 years of age. The emblem is a four leaf clover with an H in each leaf. This symbol is well known, yet it means different things to different people. The first H-Head is learning to think, making decisions, and understanding the "why's". Heart-being concerned with the welfare of others, accepting responsibilities of citizenship, determining values and attitudes by which to live, and learning how to work with others. Hands-learning new skills, perfecting and developing pride in work. Health-practicing healthful living, protecting the well being of self and others, making constructive use of leisure time.

All of this is necessary for good personal development. Each leaf, each
H, is vital to every individual.

What makes 4-H so different? 4-H is a real life experience. It has a place for all members in the family if they want to participate. Sometimes you can reach others through 4-H boys and girls.

What's it really all about? Boys and girls with a desire to "DO". Advisors with a desire to "GUIDE". These are the two most essential features of 4-H.
Will you be one of these people and say,
"Yes, I care about boys and girls, and I want to work with them." If you are interested in becoming a 4-H club advisor, contact the County Extension Office at 335-1150.

City police monthly log notes increases

City police during December made 54 criminal arrests; 177 traffic arrests — 68 of which were parking violations — and investigated 110 offense incidents,

practices attacked

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—A Lucas County Common Pleas Court has been asked to order an Atlanta firm to halt allegedly deceptive sales practices in selling "Who's Who in Ohio."

Atty. Gen. William J. Brown charged Thursday in the legal action the firm, United States Public Relations Service, mass mailed deceptive letters which "create false impressions of the publisher's size, affiliations, history and responsibility."

according to the monthly report of Police Chief Rodman Scott.

Of the 110 offense incidents, the most common were petty larceny, 30; burglary, 19; malicious destruction of property, 15; and grand larceny, 10.

During the month the department arrested 12 persons for drug offenses, nine for disturbing the peace, seven for disturbing by intoxication, and six for disorderly conduct.

The 54 criminal arrests for December 1973 is a marked increase over the 36 arrests for the same period in 1972.

TOPPING the aid and incident reports were 60 cases of theft, 37 domestic incidents, 31 disturbances, 21 burglaries and 21 cases of property destruction.

Reckless operation headed the list of traffic offenses during the month, with 19 arrested offenders. Driving under influence resulted in 10 arrests, as did red light violations. Eight persons were arrested for no operator's license and seven for failure to yield.

The 109 traffic arrests during December, brings the total for 1973 to 877. In 1972, 57 motorists were arrested during December and the total stood at 724.

Property damage resulting from auto mishaps during the month was estimated by Chief Scott at $20,672, bringing the total so far this year to $205,584.70. Damage for December 1972 was $19,279.

Value of property reported stolen during the month, totaled $7,253.73. Value of property recovered was $3,839.77.

Vandalism was responsible for a reported $170 damage in December 1973.

Automatic number identification

slated at B'burg

BLOOMINGBURG — Telephone subscribers here will no longer have to repeat their telephone numbers to the operator when making long distance calls, as of Feb. 1.

Automatic number identification equipment, which will electromechanically identify the calling number, will serve all numbers with a "437" prefix. Installation of this equipment was completed about mid-January.

At the same time, the exchange's call-carrying and outlet capacities were increased.

Crop storage shows decline across Ohio

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio had less corn and wheat in storage on the first day of 1974 than it did at the start of 1973, but soybean stocks were up 36 per cent, the Ohio Crop Reporting Service said.

Corn in storage on and off the farm on Jan. 1 stood at 194 million bushels, down 10 per cent from the 217 million bushels on hand a year earlier. Stored wheat totaled 12.5 million bushels, or 45 per cent less than the 22.7 million bushels at the start of 1973.

But soybean stocks added up to 74 million bushels, compared to 54 million bushels a year ago.

Of the totals, still on the farm were 127 million bushels of corn, 875,000 bushels of wheat and 39 million bushels of soybeans.

Tax bill recommittal backed by Taft

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Robert Taft Jr., R-Ohio, voted with the majority Thursday when the Senate sent back to committee and almost certain death a bill containing an increase in personal income tax exemptions.

Sen. Howard Mtnzenbaum, D-Ohio voted against recommittal.

Shaul may seek state office

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)— Dennis Shaul, Ohio's 35-year-old commerce director, has submitted his name to the State Democratic Screening Committee as a possible 1974 candidate for secretary of state.

He said Thursday he was not making an official announcement yet, but will decide after meeting with the committee Saturday whether to seek the Democratic nomination in the May primary.

The committee meets at 2 p.m. Saturday.

Shaul, whose department was bombarded with unfavorable publicity last year as a result of an investigation into a bribery case, had indicated earlier he would shy away from a statewide race this year.

But he said even though that was a bad incident . . . "I think we handled it with real candor here. I believe people will look at the total record."

Shaul and his employees were cleared of any wrongdoing by a grand jury investigation. It led to a six-count extortion indictment against Anthony P. LaFatch, 66-year-old Akron real estate developer who collected $50,000 with a claim he could influence the commerce department in a $10 million stock issue deal.

The director said he has talked over his possible candidacy with Democratic Gov. John J. Gilligan, with whom he probably would share the state ticket if nominated, and said Gilligan was "most encouraging."

Shaul, a former Akron city councilman, said several factors influenced his decision, among them a desire to "bring about a change" in the secretary of state's office which has been held by Ted W. Brown, a Republican, for more than 23 years. He said he also decided to come forward after "several other people I hoped would run said they were noting to run."

The committee also may hear Saturday from Henry W. Eckhart, former Public Utilities Commission chairman and announced candidate for the lieutenant governor's nomination.

Name change slated for Lockbourne AFB

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Officials at Lockbourne Air Force Base confirm the name of the installation will be changed to Rickenbacker Air Force Base May 18.

Capt. Eddie V. Rickenbacker, the World War I flying ace and aviation pioneer, was born in Columbus. Rickenbacker died last year.

Richard F. Celeste, D-5 Cleveland, for lieutenant governor.

Also endorsed was Ohio's junior senator, Howard Metzenbaum of Cleveland, in his primary battle for the Senate nomination against John Glenn, the former astronaut.

Two other Democrats have announced for the secretary of state nomination. They are Cleveland John F. Kennedy, the 1970 nominee who lost to Brown by 254,000 votes among 2.8 million cast, and Beverly Ann Bingle, a former Gilligan assistant.

Press Secretary Ronald L. Zeigler said the President would spend much of today and the weekend working on the address, which Nixon is to deliver to a joint session of Congress Wednesday evening.

Bruce Galloway, 1974-75 president-elect, indicated that this year will see a carryover of several ongoing programs, and he also outlined additional areas of involvement the Chamber might consider.

Chamber President Domenico praised all directors and their committees for outstanding work the first six months of the current year, and indicated that involvement and activity in total community development is now at an all time high for the Washington C.H. Area Chamber of Commerce.

Terrorists convicted; ouster seen

ATHENS, Greece (AP) — The Greek government is expected to deport two Palestinian terrorists who were sentenced to death Thursday for killing four Americans and an Austrian in an attack at the Athens airport last summer.

A five-man court found Arid el Shafik, 22, and Khantouran Palaal, 21, guilty of premeditated murder "of a repulsive nature" and several other charges and handed down 27-year prison terms in addition to the sentence of death before a firing squad.

But police sources said it was "highly likely" that the government would hurry them out of the country, just as it did Arab terrorists given prison terms in two previous trials.

"It would be safer," said one observer, recalling the terrorist attempt to free Shafik and Palaal last month in which 32 persons were killed at the Rome and Athens airports.

The Greek government has also been courting the Arab governments to insure unhindered oil supplies for its growing refineries.

Shafik and Palaal, both Jordanian born and members of the Black September organization, were also convicted of being "dangerous for public order," the attempted murder of 46 persons, illegal detention of 46 hostages, causing damage to foreign property, illegal possession of arms and illegal use of arms.

Rain slows in southeast; floods seen

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Rains diminished in the Southeast today, but the danger of flooding posed a problem from the middle Mississippi Valley through Ohio and lower Michigan as snow melted.

Most of the nation, however, enjoyed fair weather with sunshine from California through most of the Plains into the Ohio Valley.

The rains and thunderstorms hitting areas from southeastern Texas to the central Eastern Seaboard left 2 inches of rain in many areas of the South.

Central and northern Louisiana were particularly hard hit Thursday and flood watches were posted. Up to 9 inches of rain saturated Sabine Parish in the past two days.

The Missouri River was blocked by ice jams, causing some runoff problems as snow melted.

A rainstorm in the Northwest moved inland spreading rain and snow into the northern Rockies and Montana. Spokane, Wash., was dampened with 2.9 inches before dawn.

Rain and snow also were scattered from the northern Plains to Wisconsin.

A Trinity College student, Josiah Blackwell, Class of 1866, played for the first baseball club of Hartford, Conn., the "Charter Oak Nine."

VICTIM'S MOTHER RESTRAINED—Rescue workers attempt to keep Mrs. Elaine Mowrer of Loveland, Colo., from entering the Coors grain storage building in Longmont, Colo., after her son Steven, 19, suffocated when accidentally buried under tons of barley grain. It took rescue workers 3½ hours to recover the body.

Heart branch sets goal

The Fayette County Heart Branch has set a goal of $9,938.00 for its 1974 Heart Fund drive, for which plans are currently underway.

Funds collected during February, American Heart Month, will support educational and community programs as well as research, a prime function of the Heart Association, according to Bill Hendren and Jim Ward, Heart Fund campaign chairmen.

"Heart and blood vessel diseases afflict one out of every eight Americans," they noted. "They will claim more than one million lives this year, 53 per cent of all deaths in the U.S. Through research and other programs, we can reduce premature death and disability from heart disease."

During Heart Month, Fayette countians will join over two million Heart Association volunteers throughout the country to distribute heart-saving information and collect funds to support programs of the Heart Association.

Hendren and Ward reported that headway is being made. "For instance," they said, "since the early

Skylab astronauts mark 1,000 orbits around earth

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP) — Skylab 3's astronauts, the first men to orbit the earth 1,000 times, began their final two weeks in space today and set a space endurance mark that might stand for a decade.

At 1:47 a.m. EDT, Gerald P. Carr, William R. Pogue and Edward G. Gibson each established a mark for the most time spent in space by an individual.

The previous mark of 69 days, 15 hours, 45 minutes had been held by Alan L. Bean, who logged his time on two flights, the 59½-day Skylab 2 trip and the 10-day Apollo 12 moon-landing mission.

Carr, Pogue and Gibson have recorded all their space time on this one journey. Ten days ago they surpassed the single mission record of the Skylab 2 crew, set last September aboard the same space station.

On Thursday, the Skylab 3 astronauts also became the first men to orbit the earth 1,000 times and set their sights on their goal of 84 days. They are to splash down in the Pacific Ocean two weeks from today, on Feb. 8.

To date they have traveled more than 28½ million miles and their hoped-for 12-week record is expected to hold up for several years.

Skylab Program Director William C.

1960's, coronary care units (CCU's) have reduced the in-hospital death rate from heart attack by about 30 per cent. Central Ohio hospitals were among the nation's pioneers, establishing CCU's in 1964."

The Central Ohio Heart Chapter has also played an active role in the improvement of the emergency care system in Central Ohio. As a part of the Heart Saver program, the Central Ohio has been active in training paramedical personnel, nurses and laymen in various levels of cardiopulmonary resuscitation."

Hendren and Ward explained that the concept of the "Heartmobile," a mobile CCU, was supported here from the beginning. "Currently, paramedical personnel, operate several medic units in Franklin and Van Wert counties. It is estimated that these specialized mobile coronary units save 10-20 lives a month."

"But despite these achievements in the fight against the nation's number one killer," they added, "more help is needed. Please give generously when your Heart volunteer calls."

Schneider gave the crew a go-ahead on Thursday for seven more days in space, through Jan. 31.

An ailing control gyroscope is the only major problem aboard the 85-ton station as it sails into the final two weeks.

But the gyro performance steadied somewhat Thursday, prompting Flight Director Neil Hutchinson to say, "I am much more optimistic about it today than I was yesterday."

GM lays off 75,000 workers

DETROIT (AP) — With sales of its large cars slumping, General Motors has announced another round of major production cutbacks.

GM said Thursday the reductions will idle 75,000 assemblers in 14 plants and an indefinite number of GM component parts workers between now and April 1.

Hardest hit will be Michigan, where almost 50,000 workers are scheduled to be laid off.

It is GM's second major group of layoffs since Jan. 1.

GM laid off 86,000 workers, 38,000 indefinitely, in the period between Jan. 7 and today. December layoffs idled 135,000 workers. GM's normal United States production employment is about 420,000.

Many of the workers affected will receive up to 95 per cent of take-home wages through unemployment compensation and a pay protection plan in GM's contract with the United Auto Workers, the company said.

GM's sales figures for the first 20 days of this year show 128,896 units sold, compared with sales of 226,032 units during the same period in 1973. GM accounted for more than half of the domestic cars built and sold in the United States last year.

GM termed all of the layoffs, which involve home plants for the Buick, Pontiac, Cadillac and Oldsmobile divisions as well as 10 assembly division facilities, as temporary furloughs.

But a GM spokesman conceded some layoffs predicted for component parts workers, as opposed to assembly line layoffs, may be indefinite. Corporate spokesmen would not estimate how many of these manufacturing division layoffs there might be.

Altogether, 14 off 22 GM assembly plants will be shut down.

Relations with Arab world boosted by archeologist

HIGHLAND HEIGHTS, Ky. (AP) — A noted U.S. archeologist says relations with the Arab world could be cooled through U.S. assistance in the unearthing of the ancient city of Carthage.

Dr. Alfonz Lengyel, a professor at Northern Kentucky State College who will head a U.S. team in the archeological dig, said "our scientific and humanitarian effort in saving the ruins of Carthage" could be a major diplomatic move.

He said the fragile relations with the Arabs could be improved in much the

Tobacco prices above year ago

RIPLEY, Ohio (AP)—Farmers received an average $14 per hundred pounds more this year than last year for their tobacco in Ohio's only tobacco auction, which closed Thursday.

The seven-week session brought an average price of $92.99 compared with last year's average of $78.42. But only 7.5 million pounds were sold this year compared to 10.5 million last year.

Sales the final day were 25,340 pounds for $20,710, an average of $81.73 per hundredweight.

The Pan American Games were first held in Buena Aires in 1951.

same way the exchange of table tennis teams between the U.S. and China served as a breakthrough.

"We really need all the friends we can get," said Lengyel, who emigrated from Budapest, Hungary, 17 years ago. He said he has hopes the state department and Henry Kissinger will help secure funds for the project.

He said the dig will begin May 15 near Tunis, the capital of Tunisia in North Africa.

British, French and Italian university scientists are also taking part in the six-week project.

Carthage, a powerful foe of the Roman Empire, was destroyed by the Romans in 146 B.C.

Lengyel said the U.S. work includes the Punic cemetery and nearby Roman and Byzantine sites.

"The cemetery should yield information enough that we can reconstruct the whole sociology of Carthage," he said.

A noted Hungarian archeologist has agreed to participate, Lengyel said. "He will be able to analyze the nutrition of the people and even tell from what diseases they suffered."

Lengyel said an agreement has been reached with the Tunisian government which allow the Americans to keep any artifacts of which duplicates are discovered.

SHOULD PRESS FOR DATA — Former Watergate Special Prosecutor Archibald Cox said at a news conference in Amherst, Mass., that the House Judiciary Committee should "press the special prosecutor (Leon Jaworski) a little harder" for data on Watergate. Cox thinks that "there is room for a good deal of refinement" as to what Jaworski "can supply and can't properly supply."

NAM chairman sees better times ahead

By JOHN CUNIFF
AP Business Analyst
NEW YORK (AP) — Donald Gaudion, the new chairman of the National Association of Manufacturers — NAM — describes himself as a professional optimist with an inclination to view the worst of times as the prelude to the best of times.

The present "down-at-the-mouth attitude" of Americans, he maintains, is probably the gestation in disguise of brighter times, a period in which the nation's energies and resources are being gathered for another push forward.

"Democracy has moods and cycles," he said. "We seem to be either at the top of the world and to have all the answers or we fall to a point where everyone's confidence is shattered."

Gaudion's main job remains as chairman and chief executive of the Sybron Corp., a Rochester-based multinational heavily involved in the health care field, a rapidly growing company whose sales last year reached about $400 million. He will have the NAM spot for one year.

Two years ago, approaching 60, he relinquished some of Sybron's day-to-day activities to his president, William von Berg, and now can devote more time not only to NAM but to 15 other groups, three bank directorships and four industrial directorships.

Gaudion's interests are broader than one might attribute to the stereotype of an NAM man. He belongs to a small group called the Philosophers' Club, for example, and is chairman of the University of Rochester. He believes that "the basic changes of society begin in academia."

"I can't be accused of being a Babbitt type — of only seeking profits," he said. "I believe business people must get a broader understanding and approach to social problems."

"In fact," he continued, "the reason I joined the NAM is that it had an image of super-Babbitts," an image he believes has changed and will continue to change. "We're not quite as narrow as generally portrayed."

He foresees "two or three years of high level economic chaos" — productive, but afflicted by inflation and shortages. But he is convinced that good will come of it.

Ambulance service to keep operating

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Service to more than 25 cities will be continued by members of the Ohio Ambulance Association despite an auditor's ruling declaring existing contracts invalid.

The association's president, Donald P. Doepping, said Thursday members agreed to continue the service until a dispute is involved.

The auditor ruled earlier this week that municipalities can't contract for ambulance services. That has to be done by county commissioners, he said.

Doepping said service will continue as long as it's economically feasible.

Bailey continues to lead scoring

Kevin Bailey—Hillsboro—continues to lead the top scorers in the South Central Ohio League in both SCOL games and overall. The firecracker guard has compiled 226 total points through 12 games for a 18.8 average in all games and a 20.5 mean in SCOL games. Slipping into the No. 2 position this week was Washington C.H.'s Doug Phillips. The flashy sophomore tallied 43 points last week and upped his average to 16.7 overall and 17.1 in SCOL contests.

Hanging onto the third spot in overall scoring was Miami Trace's Dave Persinger. The bulky center is averaging 16.5 points overall in 11 games. Madison Plains scoring ace Dave Joslin bounced into the fourth position with a 44 point output this past week while Greenfield's Bill Flynn holds down the fifth spot with a 14.5 average.

In SCOL games alone Bailey is the leader followed by Phillips and Washington C.H.'s Jeff Wallace. Wallace has played in only three SCOL games but holds down a 17.0 mean. Persinger has a tight grip on fourth place with a 15.6 average and Greenfield's Steve Willett is fifth with a 14.6 count.

Team statistics have Miami Trace the leading offensive team averaging 65.2 points per game while Circleville still leads the defensive category allowing only 56.1 points to be scored. Hillsboro is the second highest scoring club clicking along at a neat 64.9 points per outing and Washington C.H. possesses the second stingiest team giving up 60.1 points every four quarters.

Madison Mills squeaks by Jeffersonville 46-45

In the Miami Trace junior high basketball league Thursday evening Madison Mills pulled a 46-45 squeaker by Jeffersonville behind a 41 point performance by Art Schlichter. Schlichter accounted for 18 of the 20 baskets and five of the six foul shots. Jeffersonville made a comeback in the fourth quarter outscoring Madison Mills 18-14 but fell one point shy. Leading scorer for Jeffersonville was Craig Dement with 25.

The second game saw Wayne blast New Holland 44-17 behind a balanced scoring attack. Bill Terry was Wayne's high scorer with 10 points and 10 other boys saw scoring action. New Holland was paced by David Hennessee with 10 points.

The final game Thursday had Eber defeating Bloomingburg 46-28. Bill Hanners led Eber with 14 points and Terry Mick and Mark Smithson led Bloomingburg with eight points apiece.

MT girls down WCH

Crenshaw, Kite tie in golf

SAN DIEGO (AP) — "We're good friends," Ben Crenshaw said with a nod toward Tom Kite.

"But we know what competition is. We're gonna try to beat each other's brains in."

Crenshaw and Kite, both residents of Austin, Tex., former teammates at the University of Texas and golfing rivals for a decade, matched sparkling, seven-under-par 65s Thursday and tied for the top spot in the first round of the $150,000 Andy Williams-San Diego Open.

They shared a one-stroke lead over Homero Blancas, Cesar Sanudo and rookie Richard Mast, who took advantage of the bright, warm sunshine to forge 66s.

Crenshaw, Kite, Blancas and Mast all played the 6,667 yard north course at the Torrey Pines Golf Club, the shorter and easier of the two courses being used for the first round of this event. Sanudo played the 7,047 yard south course. Both are par 72, but the north plays easier. The players will change courses for Friday's round and the last two days play will be over the south course.

Leonard Thompson had a 67 while the group at 68 included Gene Littler, Bobby Mitchell and John Lister of New Zealand.

Defending champion Bob Dickson was well back at 72. Johnny Miller, who swept the first three titles of the year, Jack Nicklaus, Lee Trevino, Tom Weiskopf and Arnold Palmer are not competing.

Still no positive winner seen in SCOL

By DENNIS STAPLETON
Record-Herald Sports Editor

Although it is still mathematically possible for either Miami Trace or Washington C.H. to lose out on the coveted South Central Ohio League crown the odds are heavily leaning in the other direction. The two Fayette County powerhouses share the top spot in the league with identical 6-wins 1-loss records - with the Lions holding the edge in overall games with a 10-3 record to an 8-3 mark for the Panthers.

The Lions single loss of the season was to the Panthers 51-50 on Miami Trace's home court while the Panthers only downfall was to Circleville 71-60 on the Tigers hardwood. Washington C.H. has defeated Circleville twice but must face the Panthers again Feb. 12 - which promises to be a typical Fayette County backyard brawl on Lions property. The steady Lions have clipped wins from Madison Plains - and face the Golden Eagles again this Friday with a much better team being aired for Madison Plains - Greenfield - who again are to be Lion opponents Feb. 1 - Wilmington - a team that gave the Lions a pretty good battle the first round - and Hillsboro. The Indians will be host to the Lions in the last game of the season.

Miami Trace on the other hand has defeated Greenfield - Feb. 5 will be the date the two teams meet again - Wilmington twice - Hillsboro - but must travel to play the Indians in Hillsboro's deadly gym for the second match - and Madison Plains. Circleville spanked the Panthers in the first round by 11 points but the game was close until the closing moments and the Tigers seemed to have lost some zip since acquiring their fourth SCOL loss last weekend.

The closest team to either Miami Trace or Washington C.H. is Hillsboro. The Indians at this time are carrying a 5-3 SCOL record after the 73-63 loss to the Lions Tuesday. Circleville is next in line with a 4-4 mark and Greenfield stands fifth with a 3-4 chart. Madison Plains and Wilmington are almost assuredly out of the SCOL race with 1-6 and 0-6 records respectively.

This week's cage action involving SCOL teams is relatively light with just five games being played. Three games Friday night have six SCOL teams butting heads with Miami Trace taking the night off. Saturday night only two games will take place - both being non-loop clashes.

The headliner Friday in SCOL competition - if it can be called that - is Madison Plains travelling to Washington C.H. The Golden Eagles have improved since the season began and did have trouble with their shooting accuracy in the first round with the Lions but the ex-basement tenants shouldn't be much trouble for the Lions. Washington C.H. holds one of the best starting units in the SCOL and possesses the best bench of any team. Sophomore sensation Doug Phillips is constantly raising his average and Jeff Wallace is gaining his strength more every day. Chuck Byrd and Craig Shaffer handle the ball with effectiveness and Kenny Knisley can always be counted on for his share of the points. All of this adds up to one thing and that is clipped Golden Eagle feathers.

The second most important game - and possibly the most important - is Hillsboro at Wilmington. The Indians were scalped by Washington C.H. Tuesday but are still not out of the race. Washington C.H. and Miami Trace both have to play Hillsboro again - so a win is a 'must' for Hillsboro. Wilmington is out of the race completely but could play the spoiler role with a little improvement. The Hurricane's have established themselves as a better defensive team and are also picking up in points scored. The humbled Hurricane fought back last week against Miami Trace but ended up losing by 10 points after a valiant effort.

Greenfield at Circleville is the third game Friday and could also be important. Circleville needs the win desperately for any chance as does Greenfield. The Pickaway County Tigers have one more chance at beating Miami Trace but must rely on someone else to bump off the Lions. Greenfield though faces Washington C.H. and Miami Trace one more time and could help it's self tremendously with wins over the two leaders. The game is definitely a 'must' for both teams and the game is being played at Circleville - which is always a big factor when facing the Roundtown boys.

Saturday night's action has Mechanicsburg at Madison Plains - always a good game between to arch-rivals and Franklin Heights visiting Miami Trace. The Panthers may be enjoying the weekend off from head-to-head SCOL play but Franklin Heights will give Miami Trace a tough non-loop test. The Falcons are in the Metropolitan League with state ranked Teays Valley and always talented Hamilton Township - to mention just a few. Franklin Heights plays a fast aggressive game and should keep the panthers sharp for their next SCOL encounter Feb. 1.

San Diego purchase OK awaited

SAN DIEGO (AP) — Ray A. Kroc, McDonald's hamburger chairman who has tried for nearly a decade to buy a major league baseball club, looked forward today to quick National League approval of his purchase of the San Diego Padres.

Kroc, 71, agreed with C. Arnholt Smith Wednesday to buy the Padres for about $10 million, and spent Thursday talking to Mayor Pete Wilson and City Atty. John Witt about a lease of city-owned San Diego Stadium.

Kroc said National League President Charles "Chub" Feeney telephoned him Thursday to congratulate him and announce he would hold a club owners' meeting in San Francisco next Wednesday to vote on the sale.

Earlier this month, the owners voted 9-3 against an offer by Marjorie Everett, Hollywood Park's leading stockholder, to buy the Padres and keep them in San Diego.

The financially troubled Smith also tried to sell the team for $12 million to Washington, D.C., supermarket magnate Joseph Danzansky. Owners approved the deal, but Danzansky failed to meet a deadline to cover damages from lawsuits by the city of San Diego.

Bucks reach for tall Wisconsin

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)— Ohio State, struggling to remain a Big Ten basketball contender, faces its tallest opponent of the season Saturday at Wisconsin.

The Badgers, who have lost only to nationally-ranked Marquette and Indiana in 12 games, average 6-foot-

8½, headed by 6-11 twins Kim and Kerry Hughes.

"We don't even have one starter as tall as their average. And they're good, too," said Fred Taylor, whose Buckeyes are 2-2 to Wisconsin's 2-1 mark in the conference.

The contest is one of 28 for Ohio

OU goes after Central Michigan

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A victory over Ohio State has turned Ohio University's basketball season around and launched the Bobcats into the sole Mid-American Conference lead.

Ohio, which risks its 4-0 league record Saturday at Central Michigan, limped home with successive December road losses from Utah, UCLA and Southern California.

"Coming back after that trip, the Ohio State victory was a big one for our confidence," admitted Snyder, whose Bobcats have won eight of nine games starting with the 84-79 decision over the Buckeyes.

Should Ohio stumble at Central Michigan, 1-3, Toledo could surge into a share of the MAC lead by winning at Miami.

The Rockets, picked for last place, are second with a 3-1 record. The host Redskins are still a factor at 2-2.

Western Michigan, also 2-2, visits Kent State, last with an 0-4 league start, in the other MAC contest Saturday.

Nonconference games have Northern Illinois, 3-11, at home for Long Beach,

See no changes by Notre Dame

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Notre Dame Coach Digger Phelps isn't one to revamp a successful strategy. Especially one that garnered his team a stunning victory over previously top-ranked UCLA.

"We'll start the same team and we don't expect to change our style of play," Phelps said after the No. 1-ranked Fighting Irish tuned up for their rematch against the Bruins, defeating St. Francis 78-58 in college basketball Thursday night.

Notre Dame snapped UCLA's 88-game winning streak with a 71-70 decision at South Bend, Ind., last Saturday and will face the Bruins in a nationally televised rematch from Los Angeles Saturday night.

Adrian Dantley led all scorers with 22 points and John Shumate added 19 as the Fighting Irish jumped to a 10-4 lead and, except for two brief leads by St. Francis, controlled the pace all the way. Rick Hockeney led St. Francis with 14 points.

In other games involving teams in the Top 20, No. 12 Southern Cal beat Seton Hall 79-68, No. 13 South Carolina topped Fordham 79-63 and unranked Brigham Young upset No. 20 Arizona State 89-71.

Dan Anderson and Gus Williams, who tallied five key points in the final minutes, each posted 22 points in leading USC to victory.

Fordham held the lead until midway through the first half when South Carolina's Brian Winters, who scored 24 points, tied it at 16-16 and the lead changed hands until the Gamecocks assumed control with a 27-26 halftime edge.

Freshman Mark Handy scored 19 points and Doug Richards had 24 for Brigham Young, which broke open a tight game in the second half and built up a 74-63 bulge with 6:46 remaining.

In other college basketball contests it was: Florida State 78, Jacksonville 74; Creighton 60, St. Louis 54; Old

Big Ten cage action heavy for weekend

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

While Purdue, nursing a perfect 5-0 Big Ten record, has a high-pressure outside start against third-ranked North Carolina State, three once-defeated contenders will try to better their conference lot Saturday.

Defending champion Indiana and Michigan, tied for second at 3-1, oppose Northwestern (1-4) and Iowa (1-3) in league road starts.

Fourth-place Wisconsin (2-1), shaded by Indiana 52-51 for the only Badger loop loss, takes a notable 10-2 overall record against visiting Ohio State (1-2).

Saturday's only other Big Ten contest sends Michigan State (3-2) to last-place Minnesota (0-3).

Besides the North Carolina State-Purdue tangle at Lafayette, Ind., another nonconference clash sends Illinois against Jacksonville in a Chicago Stadium twin bill also including Chicago Loyola against sixth-ranked Marquette.

A full house of more than 14,000 fans will be whooping it up as the host Boilermakers try to enhance Big Ten prestige with an upset of North Carolina State's powerful Wolfpack.

But Purdue Coach Fred Schaus said: "If I could have only one win this weekend, I'd pick it as Ohio State Monday in league play."

"I'd say we have a good chance Saturday. Everybody around here is looking forward to seeing North Carolina State. It'll be a good show."

Purdue Monday night won an important victory in the still young Big Ten race by outlasting Michigan 85-84 in overtime. Regardless of the outcome against North Carolina State, Schaus has to worry about Monday night's invasion of Ohio State where Purdue has won only once in its last 10 trips.

Although Indiana stands 11-3 for the season, coach Bobby Knight still is trying to firm up the Hoosier attack. Knight thus far has tried eight different units, employing 12 players.

The Hoosier offense has slumped from a 74-point average over Indiana's first seven games to only 61 over the last seven.

college teams Saturday, a day in which all five conferences involving state quintets are active.

Wisconsin is beating its opponents by an average of 19.1 points, fifth best in the nation this season. The Badgers also are trimming their foes by more than 15 rebounds a game.

"The teams that have stayed close to them have gone tooth and toenail on the board with them," Taylor said of Wisconsin.

"We're asking for volunteers," he added, chuckling.

Taylor said he would stick with the same five of 6-7 Wardell Jackson and 6-6 Steve Wenner at the forwards, 6-7 Bill Andreas in the pivot and 6-foot Larry Bolden and 6-3 Gary Repella at the guards.

Elsewhere, Ohio University, 4-0, tries to keep the sole MidAmerican lead at Central Michigan, 1-3. If the Bobcats win and Toledo wins at Miami, the two would be tied for the top spot.

Western Michigan visits Kent State in the other MAC contest.

All three of Ohio's major independents are in action. Cincinnati, 13-4, entertains Brown, Dayton, 10-5, plays host to DePaul while Xavier, 4-8 goes to St. Joseph's, Pa.

In the Ohio Conference, Wittenberg, 6-0, risks its lead at Ohio Northern, 7-3. Closest pursuer Muskingum, 5-1, entertains Ohio Wesleyan, 1-7, and Capital, 4-1, has Mount Union, 5-2, as its visitor.

Other OC games have Kenyon, 2-5, at Wooster, 3-3, Denison, 3-3, at Heidelberg, 3-4, and Marietta, 3-2, at Baldwin-Wallace, 1-6.

Defiance is expected to keep its Hoosier-Buckeye Conference leadership with its ninth victory in 10 league games at Taylor, last with a 1-6 mark. Findlay, 3-6 in the H-BC, visits Bluffton, 4-4.

Hiram, pacing the President's Conference with five straight triumphs, draws a formidable assignment, a trip to 4-1 Case Western Reserve. John Carroll, 3-3, entertains Washington and Jefferson, 0-6, in another PC encounter.

In the Mid-Ohio, Urbana can move one jump ahead of Malone. The Blue Knights, tied with Malone for the lead at 4-1, go to Cedarville, right behind with a 3-2 record. Malone plays outside the conference at home against Wilmington.

Elsewhere, Wright State is at Otterbein, Oberlin at Thiel, Cleveland State at Fairfield, Akron at Youngstown, Rio Grande at Central State, Ohio Dominican at Walsh, Tiffin at Mercy and Ashland at Fredonia State.

Marathon ends sponsorship of 20 teams in auto racing

FINDLAY, Ohio (AP) — Marathon Oil Co. will no longer promote its fuel at racetracks in the Midwest or sponsor 20 teams in racing competition, a company spokesman said Thursday.

The spokesman said, "I think times have changed and we have to alter our programs to suit the needs and activities of what's going on."

He said the shortage of oil was part of the company decision, but not the only reason.

The action affects drag strips, oval tracks and sports car courses where Marathon was the sole supplier of gasoline and other petroleum products. The tracks are located in Ohio, Indiana, Kentucky and Michigan.

The company will also drop sponsorship of its racing teams in car, motorcycle and boat competition. The teams are primarily based in the Midwest.

"The decision to get out of racing follows a series of curtailments and alterations of program sales and promotion areas," the spokesman said.

The company will also drop promotion of Kings Island Amusement Park, near Cincinnati, and will no longer offer glasses featuring comic strip characters.

"We are not going to encourage people to drive from Detroit to Cincinnati to visit Kings Island," he said. "Times have changed. People are being asked not to drive that much."

Bill Koch, leader of a five-car sports racing team once sponsored by Marathon, said his team will reduce its travel this year.

Koch, owner of Sports Car Forum, Inc., of Columbus, said Marathon was the primary sponsor for his team. The company provided traveling expenses and petroleum products.

"Before, we wouldn't have blinked an eye to travel to Missouri, Minnesota or Georgia for a race," he said. "Now we will race closer to home, primarily Ohio, Michigan and Indiana."

Koch said he will also drop one of his cars from the team.

Marathon's decision "was expected, but we're not mortally wounded," he said. Suppliers of tires, sparkplugs and other automotive products will continue their support, he said.

However, Koch said, the people at Marathon "are businessmen who don't want to promote something that is not promotable."

He added, I assume the consumption of petroleum products is viewed as not really necessary by the public."

Judge Coffman seeks 3rd Common Pleas Court term

Mrs. Evelyn W. Coffman, 700 Van Deman Ave., has filed petitions with the Fayette County Board of Elections as a Republican candidate for her third six-year term as Common Pleas Court judge, subject to the May primary election.

The wife of Dwight E. Coffman, who is president of Coffman Stair Co., in Washington C.H. and Logan, she was elected to her first term in 1962 and is one of only two women in Ohio to serve as judge of a Common Pleas Court.

SHE ATTENDED the University of Cincinnati for two years to fulfill pre-law requirements and was graduated after four years at Salmon P. Chase College of Law in Cincinnati. In 1943, Judge Coffman passed the state bar examination and later became an associate trial lawyer in the offices of Bert H. Long in Cincinnati.

A native of Clarksburg, she and her husband are active members of the Fayette Bible Church. She is a member of the Fayette County Republican Women's Club, the Fayette County Republican Club and the Fayette County, Ohio State and American Bar Associations. Judge Coffman was presented an honorary degree of Doctor of Laws last year from Bob

JUDGE EVELYN COFFMAN

The Coffmans have two sons, George and Tom. Judge Coffman is a member of numerous professional and civic organizations and serves on the Bob Jones University Board of Trustees.

She will be seeking a full-term, ending Feb. 8, 1981.

'Perfectly good' automobile taken away and crushed

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)—Mr. and Mrs. William E. Williams were crushed when they found out that police had towed away the "perfectly good" 1965 model car they bought last summer for $250.

The car was crushed too—literally—reduced to a nine-inch thick slab of scrap metal.

Patricia Williams said she and her husband had spent $400 on the car, including brand new tires which they bought just last month.

Recently, she said, the car developed starter trouble, and her husband suffered a leg injury and couldn't work on it.

So it had been parked in front of their near West Side home.

A friend needed a battery, so Mrs. Williams said she loaned it to him.

Tuesday, police reported, someone complained that an "abandoned" car was parked on the street. Acting under a 1971 state law which permits a car that is three years old, apparently inoperable and having "small value" to be towed away, police sent a tow truck.

When Mrs. Williams discovered the car missing she called police and learned that the car had been taken to Brookside Auto Parts, where it was dispatched to the crusher, then apparently was taken to a steel mill.

She said when they went to Brookside a man offered to sell them back their tires.

The Williams went to City Hall to complain to Mayor Ralph J. Perk.

They didn't get to see the mayor, but left the message with some of his aides that they think the city should pay for the car.

When they came out, Williams said, they found that police had ticketed their other car for a parking violation outside City Hall.

Armco sales hit record

MIDDLETOWN, Ohio (AP) — Armco Steel Corp. today reported record sales, earnings and production during 1973.

The company said it earned $107 million, or $3.38 per share of common stock, on sales of $2.3 billion.

In 1972 it earned $75.6 million, or $2.28 per common share, on sales of $1.9 billion.

The company said fourthquarter earnings were $27.7 million, or .86 per share, on sales of $662 million.

This compared with fourthquarter earnings the previous year of $21.5 million, or $.66 per share, on sales of $506.6 million.

In 1973, the company said, it produced 9.5 million tons of raw steel, 11 per cent more than the previous year.

Adhesives ban will be lifted

WASHINGTON (AP) — The U.S. Consumer Product Safety Commission announced today it will lift its 6-month-old ban on 13 brands of aerosol spray adhesives on March 1.

The commission said a panel of experts overwhelmingly supported the conclusion that there is no evidence to justify earlier concerns that the adhesives might cause chromosome damage and birth defects.

Musicians vote strike

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)—Cleveland Orchestra musicians voted 83-2 Thursday to strike Sunday night unless agreement is reached on a new contract with the Musical Arts Association.

Withdrawal by Israelis accelerates

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Israeli army accelerated its withdrawal from the west bank of the Suez Canal today.

Egypt was also scheduled to begin moving some of its troops to reduce its forces on the east side of the waterway, but there was no confirmation that this movement had started on schedule.

The Israeli withdrawal began ahead of time, on Wednesday. The military command in Tel Aviv refused to disclose details of the movement today, and Defense Minister Moshe Dayan refused to let newsmen from Israel observe it.

But spokesmen confirmed that the troop movement was going ahead in accordance with the final disengagement agreement signed by the Israeli and Egyptian chiefs of staff at Kilometer 101 west of the canal on Thursday.

Military sources in Tel Aviv said all Israeli troops would probably be out of the city of Suez, at the southern end of the canal, by Monday.

The sources said the Egyptians would probably regain full possession of Suez by noon Monday, and the bulk of the Egyptian 3rd Army could start moving across from the east bank where it has been trapped since the October war ended.

Rose Avenue PTO reports on party

The Rose Avenue PTO reports that it realized $210 on the skating party it held Wednesday night at Roller Haven. The large crowd enjoyed free skating, cake and pizza walks.

Hospitals run short of supplies

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)—Cleveland area hospitals say they are running into problems finding some supplies, and they say other hospitals around the nation apparently are having the same problems.

Shortages of cotton goods, plastic items, some antibiotics and rubbing alcohol result from the energy crisis and transportation problems, said David Selkowitz, vice president of Shared Services, Greater Cleveland Hospital Association.

He said rubbing alcohol is distilled from petroleum but has "a very low priority" with refiners.

At University Hospitals, spokesmen said cotton products, including nurses gowns, patients' robes, and towels and wash cloths, are in short supply.

They said antibiotics and paper products also are hard to find.

William J. Snyder, director of supply services at University Hospitals, said the trend "is away from disposables and back to reusables—though they may cost more."

Now, he said, rubber is being substituted for plastic tubing, glass for some plastic connectors and metal for stop cocks where plastic has been used in recent years.

Fraud defendant appears in court

A Washington C.H. man was fined $100 and sentenced to five days in jail Thursday after he pleaded guilty in Municipal Court to a charge of check fraud.

Judge Reed M. Winegardner imposed the fine and sentence on Ronald L. Butcher, 29, of 339 Oak St., who passed a back check in the amount of $7.96 at Buckeye Mart. However, the judge suspended the jail sentence and $50 of the fine.

Gary Anthony, 27, Ohio 38, forfeited $50 on a charge of intoxication.

Six committeemen file for election

Six persons have filed for re-election to the Fayette County Democratic Central Committee. The committee will be elected at the May primary.

Those seeking to keep their spots on the committee are Raymond Loudner, precinct 3-D; Richard P. Kimmel, 1-C; Francis Langen, 1-A; Martha Sollars, Bloomingburg, Paint Township; Milbourne Barney, Lower Paint precinct, Paint Township; and Doris Riegle, south precinct, Union Township.

Those intending to file for a place on the May ballot have until Feb. 6 to do so.

3 bad checks, one accident investigated

The Fayette County Sheriff's Department and City Police had one of the quietest evenings in a long time: one accident was reported by police and three bad checks by sheriff's deputies, but as Sarah Brown, deputy sheriff and dispatcher, put it, "It's not that people are behaving any better, it's just that we haven't been told what happened yet!"

The accident involved a car driven by Nancy Ann Stone, 49, of 517 Third St. and a truck driven by Loren E. Noble, 54, of 105 River Rd., at the intersection of Main Street and Circle Avenue, at 1:22 p.m. Thursday.

Police reported moderate damage to both vehicles.

SeaWay Distributing, 1290 Clinton Ave., reported three bad checks to the Sheriff's Department: Dec. 26 - $39.28, Dec. 3 - $49.71 and Nov. 16 - $24.59.

Congress attacks oil profits

WASHINGTON (AP) — Reports of record oil company profits have prompted an outpouring of bills aimed at rolling back the price of domestic crude oil and taking away some of the oil industry's tax breaks.

Meanwhile, energy chief William E.

Simon returns to Capitol Hill today for a third straight day.

Simon is scheduled to testify before Sen. Henry M. Jackson's investigations subcommittee, which has been probing the extent of the energy crisis. He spent the past two days testifying before a Senate Finance subcommittee considering establishment of an energy trust fund.

Jackson, D-Wash., predicted Thursday that the Senate next week would pass the emergency energy bill

Freshman legislator pushes bill to cut welfare costs

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Rep. Gene Damschroder, R-95 Fremont, wants to consolidate the Welfare Department and the Bureau of Employment Services to reduce welfare costs "up to 50 per cent."

The freshman legislator offered his proposal Thursday as the House and Senate moved promptly through brief floor sessions and quit work until next Tuesday.

Nine new bills were introduced in the House, including Damschroder's. Rep. Thomas J. Carney, D-71 Youngstown, and 13 other Democrats offered Gov. John J. Gilligan's emergency energy bill.

Among the other proposals was one by Rep. Thomas Fries, D-35 Dayton, who wants to exempt mortgage bankers from the eight per cent interest ceiling on first mortgage real estate loans.

In floor action, the House voted 89-1 to confer legal status upon the medical school at Wright State University at Dayton. The move represents a setback to supporters of a recent governor's task force report that suggests plans for the Dayton facility should be abandoned, along with another medical school in northeast Ohio.

Rep. Thomas P. Gilmartin, D-71 Youngstown, joined a chorus of speakers who denounced the report, and charged that Regents Chancellor James Norton "is trying to divide us" with a recommendation that the state act now to develop only one new medical school.

"I told him that the legislature has spoken in this matter ... we resent it. I hope the bureaucrats find it out and get in line," Gilmartin told the House. His district would benefit from the northeast facility, created by law last year to serve the University of Akron, Kent State and Youngstown State Universities.

Rep. Donald J. Pease, D-54 Oberlin, cast the only dissenting vote, but said

Report use of marijuana damaging to body defenses

NEW YORK (AP) — Regular smoking of marijuana weakens the human body's immune defenses against disease, a medical team reports.

It said the defect was found among men and women 16 to 35 years old who had smoked either marijuana or hashish at least once a week for more than one year. The average was four times a week for four years.

Specifically, one finding was a decreased ability of certain white blood cells, which defend the body against illness, to interact with "foreign" substances in a test-tube.

Cell division in this type of cell also was inhibited in marijuana-users compared with nonusers, said the specialists from Columbia University's College of Physicians and Surgeons. The study represents the first direct he did so only because the legislature has not had time to evaluate the facts in the task force report. "I think they may be all wet, but the point is, I don't know," the House education chairman told his colleagues.

The bill now goes to the Senate.

Without dissent, the House gave its approval to a bill asked by Democrats seeking to use Ohio's May primary for the election of 64 delegates to a Democratic National Committee policy conference next December.

Two bills were up for Senate action, and both passed unanimously. They allow witnesses to a will to sign affidavits stating that the will is valid, and require the Department of Rehabilitation and Correction to report annually on the operation of probation and parole programs. Such reports now are required of the Adult Parole Authority.

Damschroder received national publicity last year for his futile

proposal to use sterilization as a means of cutting welfare rolls. He is scheduled to appear on an upcoming segment of CBS' "60 Minutes" television program to discuss that idea.

In his latest move, the Fremont airport operator and private pilot referred to Ohio's "giant welfare system" and said that aside from the blind, elderly, and disabled, it "consists of young, healthy, and able to work people who either could or should want to go to work."

Putting the welfare and employment agencies under one roof, he said, "will result in a more economical operation and could save up to 50 per cent compared to the present waste."

Gilligan's energy bill, as announced earlier, would give him the authority to create a state energy office, a state energy board, and appoint an energy administrator to implement federal energy legislation and requirements.

Trucks shut down at 3 Ohio points

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Groups of independent truck operators conducted protests at three points in Ohio Thursday to show their displeasure with high fuel prices and low freight rates.

A group of Lorain County truckers stopped trucks on Ohio 18 near Wellington Thursday night and asked the drivers to pull over and stop for the night.

The State Highway Patrol said some trucks were being stopped also at points on U.S. 20 near Oberlin.

Patrolmen were unable to say how many trucks were involved.

The Lorain County drivers stopped an estimated 300 trucks on Ohio 18 Wednesday night.

One trucker who was pulled off Ohio 18 and directed into the Lorain County fairgrounds complained that he had a wife and family on the West Coast.

David Crawford of Wellington, vice president of the county chapter of the Owners-Operators Club, retorted: "I got a wife and family too, and a $40,000 rig here."

In Youngstown, a union leader said about 300 truckers went out to demonstrate at truck stops and factories following a protest rally.

Ed Heugle, president of Steelworkers Local 1, said the truckers were "really mad." Heugle, acting as a spokesman for the independent truckers, said the drivers "plan to stay out until they (meaning the government) put something in writing for us."

Heugle said a major demand is for a ceiling on fuel prices. He said 37.9 cents a gallon is "about the top price we could operate with and still make a profit."

Alleged price gouging by oil dealers was a primary gripe of five East Liverpool area truckers who met with government representatives to air their complaints.

Winfield Durst of Columbus, president of the Ohio Dump Truck Operators Association, said after the East Liverpool meeting a planned national trucking shutdown still is set for Jan. 31 "and this is definite."

Durst said owner-operators are demanding a ceiling price on all petroleum products and a rollback to 31.9 cents per gallon for diesel fuel."

Natural gas rules costly to consumers

WASHINGTON (AP) — Expensive natural gas from abroad has been sold in the United States over the past few years while the Federal Power Commission was barring some sales of far cheaper domestic supplies.

The commission, which regulates the prices charged for natural gas sold to interstate pipelines, rejected many of the proposed sales of domestic gas on grounds that the projected price was too high.

Yet the commission's own figures show that frequently the rejected domestic gas prices were as little as one-third the eventual price of the foreign shipments.

The result was price increases for gas consumers.

Rush Moody Jr., vice chairman of the FPC, charged that many commission rate decisions amount to "regulatory capriciousness."

"If somebody stands back away from us and looks at many of the things we do, I don't think we can be logically defended," Moody said in an interview.

A spokesman for the power commission said the prices approved for the foreign gas were for supplies delivered to the East Coast cities where the gas was to be used.

He said the domestic prices involved in the FPC ruling were wellhead prices, without delivery costs included.

"If you add on the delivery costs for the domestic gas, the prices go much higher," he said.

However, FPC figures show that even after delivery, the domestic gas doesn't approach the cost of the foreign gas.

FPC Chairman John Nassikas testified before a House subcommittee Jan. 17 that the foreign gas was necessary because of an impending nationwide gas shortage that would be much worse without the foreign supplies.

Producers claim that current U.S. shortages of natural gas can be traced, at least in part, to the FPC-regulated rates. The rates are too low to provide sufficient profit margin to encourage the expensive, high-risk process of new gas exploration, the producers say.

House panel eyes impeachment data

WASHINGTON (AP) — House impeachment investigators are searching the history books for clues to what the Founding Fathers had in mind when they wrote impeachment into the Constitution.

Special Counsel John W. Doar said Thursday that lawyers on the staff of the Judiciary Committee are beginning their inquiry by studying what constitutes an impeachable offense.

The key question to be decided is what the phrase "high crimes and misdemeanors" means.

That's what the Constitution defines as impeachable offenses and in the nearly 200 years since the words were written there has been controversy over their meaning.

The close parallel between the words and terms used in criminal law have convinced many scholars — and all persons threatened with impeachment — that only misconduct punishable under criminal law warrants impeachment.

But other experts and the precedents of previous House impeachments support the view that even gross derelictions of duty that fall short of criminal behavior can be impeachable offenses.

Doar, following a meeting with the senior Judiciary Committee members who are guiding the investigation, said the staff is working on a legal brief that will set forth a definition to be used in the Nixon impeachment inquiry.

He said the brief should be ready in mid-February, at which time public hearings on it may be held by the committee.

Krogh says Nixon issued no orders

WASHINGTON (AP) — Egil Krogh Jr. says he received no orders from President Nixon to send burglars into the office of Daniel Ellsberg's psychiatrist and that he has no information that could implicate the President.

But Krogh, sentenced Thursday to six months in prison for his role in the break-in, skirted the question of where the orders originated because the matter will come before the courts.

"I would simply say that I considered that a break-in was within the authority of the unit and that I did not act to foreclose one from occurring despite the opportunity to do so."

Asked if he had information that would implicate John D. Ehrlichman, his former boss and one-time top aide to Nixon — Krogh replied: "I don't know."

Ehrlichman had given the unit — known as the plumbers — authority to engage in covert activity to obtain information on Ellsberg, then identified as responsible for the leak of the Pentagon papers.

Ehrlichman has pleaded innocent to a California indictment charging conspiracy, burglary and perjury in the case. He is scheduled for trial in April along with David R. Young Jr. and G. Gordon Liddy.

Krogh had pleaded guilty to one count of conspiring to violate the rights of Dr. Lewis Fielding, Ellsberg's psychiatrist, whose files were rifled Sept. 3, 1971. Krogh could have been sentenced to 10 years in prison and a $10,000 fine.

But Judge Gerhard A. Gesell said "apart from this offense" Krogh's

Britons keep stiff upper lip in country's 'darkest hour'

LONDON (AP) — In Britain's darkest hour since its Darkest Hour, the natives are still going about their business by gaslight and more or less cheerfully coping. Especially the Quality.

Lord Hesketh has mothballed his helicopter for the duration, and so has Sir Hugh Fraser. The P&O liner Canberra, wending westward with 1,700 orphans of the storm, has shrunk the world and eliminated Canada, the Virgin Islands and part of the Indian Ocean from its world cruise to save fuel.

Bankers and brokers in the City, the financial district beyond St. Paul's, are concerned about an increase in office lechery amid the Edwardian gloom of the gas lamps. Some of the more liberated birds are putting their bras back on to cool the ardor of the benighted knights of the water cooler.

Now more than a month old, Britain's woes began to accumulate when the nation's coal miners, whose output sustains the power stations, refused to work overtime because Prime Minister public service was exceptional and that he had been assigned "a wholly improper, illegal task ... by higher authority."

Krogh is the first high-level White House aide to be sent to prison in the Watergate aftermath.

As he had told Gesell earlier about his role in the burglary, Krogh told newsmen: "It was a terrible mistake on my part; I regret it more than I can say."

Edward Heath's inflation controls kept them from getting the raises they demanded.

To conserve electricity, the government put the country on a three-day work week. Meanwhile, the train engineers staged a slowdown to advance their pay claims and caused havoc in the ranks of the commuters, especially those coming in from the posh "stockbrokers' belt."

The Spirit of Dunkirk is abroad in the land once again. People are running about shouting "put out that light." The Electricity Board has coined the slogan "S.O.S." — Switch Off Something — and urged housewives to avoid using electric ovens and turn the heat and lights on in only one room.

On days when there is no electricity, some shops and firms send the staff home at noon.

"What with the trains late and the short day, by the time you make the tea, it's time to go home," complained — or perhaps enthused — an elderly switchboard operator at one of the city's more venerable banking houses.

Glenn wins democratic support

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Franklin County's Democrats have endorsed former astronaut John Glenn in his run for the party's U.S. Senate nomination this year.

The party's executive committee voted 55-17 Thursday night to back Glenn rather than the incumbent, Sen. Howard Metzenbaum of Cleveland.

Metzenbaum was named to the post last month by Gov. John J. Gilligan after William B. Saxbe resigned to become attorney general.

There was no debate before the secret vote was taken.

In another development, former Public Utilities Commission Chairman Henry W. Eckhart announced he would resume his candidacy for lieutenant governor, rather than run for secretary of state as he had announced earlier in the week.

No candidate for lieutenant governor received a majority, which was necessary for endorsement.

The county committee endorsed Beverly Anne Bingle for secretary of state.

Official victim of tennis mishap

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — The game of tennis, which sidelined Gov. William G. Milliken last fall, now has a new victim: Lt. Gov. James Brickley.

Brickley showed up for work Thursday with 25 stitches in a one-inch area of his upper lip and confided he hit himself Wednesday night with his racket while trying to hook the ball.

"I missed the ball," he said. The racket struck his face and split his lip against a tooth.

Syrians hawks of Middle East

By HARRY DUNPHY
Associated Press Writer
DAMASCUS, Syria (AP) — Ever since the Arab-Israeli war last October, the Syrian government has opened up in an attempt to explain its position to the outside world.

Syrians still are hawks on the question of Israeli withdrawal from occupied Arab lands, and they are quick to voice disapproval of Egypt for signing an agreement with Israel to disengage their forces in the Suez area.

U.S. Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger has made two visits to Damascus, trying to get the Syrians involved in disengagement negotiations with Israel and the larger Geneva peace talks now in recess.

Although Kissinger emerged with what he termed "very constructive suggestions" from President Hafez Assad, which he took to Israel, Syria opposes any negotiations on disengagement of forces in the Golan Heights area unless they are the first

Senate approves tax amendment, then kills bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — Despite having received overwhelming approval of the Senate, an amendment that would have given taxpayers a $3.5-billion tax break has failed to win approval.

The Senate refused to pass the legislation to which it was attached Thursday and sent the entire tax bill back to the Finance Committee for further study.

The amendment would have allowed taxpayers to increase personal and dependent income tax exemptions from $750 to $850. It would have been retroactive for the 1973 tax year, and would have reduced the taxes due on returns now being filed.

The chief sponsor of the amendment, Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., said this would have meant a savings of $3.5 billion annually.

Had the bill with the amendment passed the Senate, it faced an uncertain future in the House. And an administration spokesman at the Capitol said the executive branch opposed the amendment.

Senate backers of the tax cut said they would be looking for further opportunities to raise the issue anew on the Senate floor, but there seemed little chance that the Finance Committee would approve a large income tax cut and send the bill back for a vote.

The issue was raised suddenly Thursday by Kennedy, in the third day of debate on a minor House-passed revenue measure. This bill already had been made the vehicle for about a dozen Senate riders, mostly relatively minor tax relief provisions for businesses.

At this point Sen. Russell B. Long, D-La., the Finance Committee chairman, moved to send the bill with all its riders back to his panel. The motion passed.

Kennedy claimed that the nation's leading economists are convinced a recession is likely in 1974 and that the best way to fight it is a major increase in consumer buying power through a tax cut.

The amendment, fought by Sen. Harry F. Byrd Jr., Ind.-Va., who said it was much too costly, was adopted 53 to 27, winning votes of 36 Democrats and 17 Republicans. Voting against it were 20 Republicans and 7 Democrats.

Watergate panel sets testimony

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Watergate committee staff appears to have agreed on at least five witnesses to testify about a $100,000 payment made to President Nixon's friend C. G. "Bebe" Rebozo, a source close to the committee says.

The witness list includes Rebozo plus former and present close associates of billionaire Howard Hughes, who provided the money allegedly intended for Nixon's re-election campaign, the source said.

However, Samuel Dash, the committee's chief counsel, said the list provided by the source included the names of some persons who would not be called.

The Watergate committee's four Democrats outvoted their three Republican colleagues Wednesday in deciding to hold three days of hearings next week on the Hughes-Rebozo money.

Despite denials by Dash that such a witness list had been drawn, the source said the Watergate committee staff decided in a meeting Thursday to call Rebozo and these other witnesses:

—Robert A. Maheu, a former but now estranged associate of Hughes who was once a key figure in the Hughes gambling and hotel empire in Las Vegas, Nev.

Oil profits hit

1972, while Texaco, the industry's third largest, announced a 45 per cent gain, and Shell, seventh in size, said its profits were up by 28 per cent.

Other oil companies have announced similar gains this week, including a 59 per cent increase by Exxon Corp., the nation's biggest oil company.

Legislation was introduced Thursday to trim some of big oil's tax privileges.

Sen. Gaylord Nelson, D-Wis., filed a bill to end the oil depletion allowance that allows petroleum and natural gas producers to deduct 22 per cent of their gross income before calculating their taxes. Nelson said the depletion allowance, aimed at encouraging oil exploration and production, has cost the taxpayer $1.5 billion a year.

Sen. Lloyd Bentsen, D-Tex., introduced a bill to eliminate the oil depletion allowance for foreign exploration outside North America.

Meanwhile, the Labor Department reported the number of energy-related job layoffs tripled in recent weeks with more than half involving Michigan autoworkers.

The department said 7 per cent of the total number of workers receiving unemployment insurance benefits for the week ended Jan. 5 blamed their job loss on the fuel shortage, compared with only 2 per cent the previous week.

In Detroit, General Motors announced it would lay off an additional 75,000 employees for varying periods between now and April 1.

—Richard Danner, a Hughes agent who reportedly delivered the $100,000 to Rebozo in $50,000 cash installments in 1969 and 1970.

—Thomas Wakefield, an attorney for Rebozo's Key Biscayne, Fla. bank.

—William Griffen, a lawyer who worked for industrialist Robert Abplanalp, another close personal friend of the President.

Meanwhile, sources attending the committee's 3½-hour closed-door session Wednesday said the split on the renewed hearings went far deeper than a mere partisan split.

"None of the senators had any stomach for more hearings, Sam Dash bulldozed them into it to save his own face," one source said.

Gilligan may change time

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Gov. John J. Gilligan said today he may decide Ohio should set its clocks back an hour, if Daylight Saving Time isn't doing what it's supposed to do.

Gilligan said he has asked the state's Congressional delegation to tell him whether DST is saving energy. "If not," he said, "I think we'll have to go back to standard time."

Earlier Gilligan rejected legislators' requests that he exempt Ohio from the federal measure which established DST as an energy conservation step.

Asked whether parental concern for safety of children going to school in darkness was the reason for the current position, he replied that could be one factor in any decision he makes.

"A lot of parents are disturbed about it," he added, "and I would be myself if we still had young children."

Ohio Assembly

Republicans generally were critical of the sweeping measure, with some calling it a "power grab."

Fries, who served as chairman of the Legislative Service Study Commission on Usury Laws, said he "strongly favor (s) their repeal." In addition to lifting the eight per cent interest limit on first mortgage loans, the bill also would lift it on short term notes issued by commercial banks.

"At present, savings and loan associations are exempt from the eight per cent ceiling, and mortgage bankers are stymied by what I feel is an injustice in the usury laws," Fries said. The bill would not affect the interest ceiling on Federal Housing Administration or Veterans Administration loans, he added.

Another new bill, by Sen. Clara E. Weisenborn, R-5 Dayton, would outlaw smoking in public buildings except in designated areas. The measure would apply only in places where 25 or more people congregate, she said.

British make deal for Iranian oil

ST. MORITZ, Switzerland (AP) — Britain has agreed to ship $220 million worth of goods to Iran in exchange for an additional 35 million barrels of Iranian crude oil.

The agreement, which is for 1974 and early 1975, was announced today by British Trade and Industry Minister Peter Walker after almost five hours of talks with Iranian officials.

Iran, which is not an Arab nation, has not taken part in the Arab oil boycott or cutbacks to industrialized nations. Iran is also said to be a heavy supplier of oil to Israel.

Nixon data harmful to popularity

NEW YORK (AP) — Pollster Louis Harris says a survey indicates President Nixon's release of financial statements and tax returns "has made things worse rather than better for him."

Harris said Thursday that 1,460 persons polled between Jan. 7 and 10 were asked if they considered it wrong for Nixon, whose income totals $250,000 a year in salary and expenses, to have paid less taxes than someone with an $8,000 annual income.

He said 75 per cent of the respondents called it wrong, 15 per cent disagreed and 10 per cent were unsure.

Of those questioned, 56 per cent replied that Nixon "has not been honest about the financing of his houses in San Clemente and Key Biscayne," said Harris. Only 26 per cent said they believed the President told the truth about the real estate deals. Eighteen per cent were undecided.

In taking advantage of tax regulations to claim deductions on land sales and donation of his papers to the National Archives, Nixon "has failed to provide moral leadership for the rest of the country," according to 64 per cent of those sampled. Twenty-three per cent disagreed and 13 per cent were unsure.

Fifty per cent said they resented Nixon "becoming a millionaire at a time when the American people have had a hard time making ends meet." Forty-one per cent said they did not resent it and nine per cent were undecided.

Asked whether "the tax breaks the President took were all legal and proper," 29 per cent agreed, 45 per cent disagreed and 26 per cent were unsure.

Phnom Penh toll hits 44

PHNOM PENH, Cambodia (AP) — Insurgents shelled Phnom Penh's airport today as the toll from Thursday's artillery barrage in the capital rose to 44 killed and 117 wounded, the police said.

Rebel gunners firing 105mm artillery pumped 10 rounds today into the Pochentong Airport, 3½ miles west of the capital, killing one person and wounding two others, field reports said.

Insurgents also fired three artillery shells today into the southern part of the city, killing a girl and wounding three other persons, field reports said.

89 Government intelligence sources said the Khmer Rouge insurgents apparently have at least three captured American-made 105mm howitzers emplaced near the Prek Thnot River south of the city. The guns have an effective range of six miles, and military sources believe they are concealed just south of a bend in the river that is less than that distance away.

Forty-six rounds landed in the southern part of Phnom Penh Thursday night. Most of them hit in a crowded, low-income housing area about 400 yards west of President Lon Nol's palace. Western observers believed the gunners were trying to hit the palace.

The barrage began about 8:30 p.m. as some families were celebrating the lunar new year. The toll rose steadily through the night as wounded persons died.

The insurgents fired three more 105mm rounds into the southern part of Phnom Penh this morning. One shell exploded near a teacher and his family digging a shelter; the teacher's 3-year-old daughter was killed and three other members of the family were wounded.

Phnom Penh has been shelled almost daily since Dec. 23, and more than 80 persons have been killed. The Khmer Rouge until this week fired rockets from positions west and northwest of the city. When the Cambodian army drove them back from that area, the insurgents advanced on the south and southwest and began artillery attacks from there.

Agnew book rejected

NEW YORK (AP) — Random House says it has rejected a novel being written by former Vice President Spiro T. Agnew.

Robert L. Bernstein of the publishing house, said Thursday his firm had been offered an outline and sample chapter of the novel but said Random House would not publish the book.

Bernstein said the outline of the proposed novel "roughly" concerned a future vice president of the United States who turns out to have been programmed for disaster by Chinese Communists.

According to the New York Times, the protagonist in Agnew's projected novel is a lawyer with presidential ambitions who was appointed vice president after his predecessor died of a heart attack.

Gas taxes distributed

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio distributed over $11 million in adjusted gasoline tax revenues to its cities, villages, counties and townships, in January the state Auditor reported today.

Joseph T. Ferguson said it was the largest amount to be delivered in the state's history.

He said the gasoline tax distributions are adjusted every year according to the number of vehicles registered within the boundaries of the municipalities.

They receive one dollar for each vehicle, he said.

Stock list turns mixed

NEW YORK (AP) — Spot news pushed certain stocks higher today as the rest of the market languished in uninspired trading, waiting for something to happen.

The Dow Jones average of 30 industrials, continuing a trend begun in the last half-hour of trading Thursday, was down 4.30 to 858.78 at noon. Declines led advances 3-to-2 among 1,479 issues traded on the New York Stock Exchange, whose broadbased index slipped 12 to 51.60.

High oil prices, inflation, and international monetary discord are "tempering" investor enthusiasm, said Monte Gordon of Dreyfus Corp.

"Investors are just very, very nervous," said Larry Wachtel of Bache & Co. The lowering of prime rates to 9½ per cent by several large banks did not seem to affect the market, brokers said.

On the American Stock Exchange, gold stocks advanced with Campbell Chibougama Mines up ¾ to 9, Day Mines up ¾ to 17½, and Giant Yellowknife, plus ¾ to 23½. The market-value index at noon was off .04 at 96.47.

High pressure continued to hold sway over Ohio today, giving the state clear skies and chilly dawn temperatures.

The high was expected to give the state abundant sunshine today, pushing afternoon temperatures up into the 40s.

This high pressure system was to begin weakening by Saturday as a low pressure system moved eastward from the Texas coast. This low is expected to give Ohio a chance of rain over the weekend.

Meanwhile, temperatures were to remain on the mild side. Lows tonight are forecast to drop to the 30s under partly cloudy skies, rising Saturday into the 40s or low 50s under thickening clouds.

Milder temperatures are expected Sunday through Tuesday with a chance of showers each day. Highs Sunday will be mostly in the 50s. Lowering to the 40s Tuesday. Lows Sunday will be in the 40s, falling off to the 30s by Tuesday morning.

Cotner, who represents guardsmen questioned by the jury, told newsmen Thursday that the 40 to 45 guardsmen who have appeared so far were "nonshooters."

Ohio Perspective

Change in state jury rules eyed

By ROBERT E. MILLER
Associated Press Writer
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A Ravenna legislator is pushing for a law that would allow Ohioans serving on juries to go to lunch where they please unless they are considering an alleged capital crime.

Rep. Marcus A. Roberto, D-62 Ravenna, said, "some courts in the state are allowing jurors to separate for lunch. Others are not. I think it's a question that should be resolved."

The 42-year-old Ravenna High School teachers cited the example in his own area in which a court allowed jurors to split up for lunch. The verdict went to Ohio's 11th District Court of Appeals, which reversed the verdict because the jurors were permitted to disband, Roberto said.

He said other appeals courts in Ohio have made conflicting decisions.

"This bill seeks to settle it and make the courts uniform in this matter," he said.

Present law provides that a court, except in cases where the offense charged may be punishable by death, may permit the jurors to separate during overnight adjournment of court. Roberto's bill adds the words "for lunch or" preceding the word "overnight."

The Gilligan administration, like the Rhodes administration before it, likes friends to go along when the governor appears before a joint session of the Ohio Senate and House.

This year, as usual, reserved signs draped chairs around the lower walls and aisles and in the balcony. Most of the reservations were for cabinet officials, administration employees and families admitted by ticket only.

Their applause made it all look good for Gov. John J. Gilligan, especially in front of statewide television cameras.

Republicans acknowledged that former GOP Gov. James A. Rhodes did the same thing for his "state of the state" speeches, but they contended the practice should be halted.

"It looked like a Democratic prayer meeting out there," said Sen. Michael J. Maloney, R-7 Cincinnati.

Sen. Paul R. Matia, R-25 Westlake, a leader among Republicans pushing for reform of Ohio's campaign financing laws, says failure to pass such reforms kept him out of the 23rd Congressional District race this year.

NEW YORK (AP) — Broadcasting's coverage of sporting events has grown by leaps and bounds in recent years. But chess is ignored because it neither leaps nor bounds. It just sits there and moves now and then.

But a guy named Frank Brady is trying to fill this gap for a while. On national radio, no less. He's been reporting and analyzing the moves in four major chess matches for two weeks now.

The winner in the finals plays Bobby Fischer for the world title next year. The most prominent match this week, occurring in Puerto Rico, is between Russia's Boris Spassky and Robert Byrne of the United States.

But chess fans needn't frantically dial around for Brady's play-by-play report. There isn't any, and thank heavens.

Brady, who estimates the board bouts average five hours a game, only comes on for 5 to 10 minutes, Tuesdays and Fridays, on the National Public Radio system linking 167 stations in most of the United States.

So what he'll do is summarize each match, "try to give the essence of what went on" and perhaps interview one or two chess experts on what went wrong or may happen in a given game.

An international arbiter of the World Chess Federation and author of books on Fischer and chess strategy, Brady said he'd given the most coverage this week to the big Spassky-Byrne match.

It's not his first fling at chess broadcasting. Two summers ago, he went to Iceland to report on the famous Spassky-Fischer duels by phone for three California radio stations, plus a public TV show that made a brief start out of New York chess champ Shelby Lyman.

However, he isn't at the Spassky-Byrne match. So how does he cover it? "What I've been doing for the most part is going to Manhattan," said Brady, 39, a resident of Moorestown, N.J. "At the Marshall Chess Club, in New York, they get the moves, move by move, by open telephone line from San Juan.

"And I've been going there every Monday, Wednesday and Friday and sitting there, analyzing the game as they go along, interviewing people, getting comments and trying to put it all together for a five-minute show."

Does he think his descriptions of the games would be intelligible to listeners with only a hazy idea of chess?

"Oh, yes," he said. "They may not specifically know what I'm talking about, for example, when I start talking about 'Sicilian defenses' or 'Ruy Lopez.'"

This is true. However, he emphasized, "I try to make it as simple as possible because I'm not trying to appeal to the diehard chess player, but to persons who just know the basic moves."

NPR says Brady's chess reports, to continue until the playoff matches end, appear at the end of NPR's regular "All Things Considered" program, which most stations carry from 5 to 6:30 p.m.

Javits pushes for decision

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Jacob K. Javits has called for early action on the impeachment resolution against President Nixon now before a House committee.

"I believe we have an absolute right to insist on early action on the impeachment resolution," the New York Republican told reporters at his bi-weekly news conference.

"The national urgency is great to settle this question," he said.

Javits said the the impeachment prerequisite of alleged "high crimes and misdemeanors" means to him "a finding of unfitness to continue in office of the President of the United States ... for basic cause, on good evidence."

Javits said he is "fully prepared to vote on the basis of conscience" if the Senate tries Nixon.

Asked if he thought the President were guilty of an impeachable offense, he said: "I have not arrived at such a judgement."

Caution on counterintelligence

Congress should think through the implications very carefully before acting on a request by the Federal Bureau of Investigation for authority to mount a counterintelligence drive under certain circumstances. Disclosure of FBI activities along this line in the recent past counsels the most cautious approach to granting any such authority.

The proposal made by FBI Director Clarence M. Kelley has a kind of surface plausibility. He envisions law authorizing "a stopgap type of operation" pending more explicit congressional action to deal with a national emergency.

Yet even with the agency barred from determining on its own that an emergency justifying counterintelligence operations existed, the concept is fraught with danger. For by "counterintelligence" is meant subversion and disruption of groups outside the mainstream. Any interference with political activity, however unpopular, must be hedged about with tight constitutional safeguards.

Watergate matter have been made available to the proper authorities."

We see no other way for the President to let off the new head of steam generated in the push for impeachment by the latest tapes disclosure. No amount of effort to convey the impression that he is in full command of the nation's foreign policy and is dealing effectively with the energy crisis and inflation will change this.

Whether or not Mr. Nixon is able to carry on as chief executive in the face of the Watergate scandal is not perceived by the American people as the central issue. They want to know what went on, and who did it, and why, and we believe they will not be satisfied until clear answers are forthcoming.

Some fair conclusions

The White House is legally on solid ground in its insistence that no one should make "premature judgments" about the cause of a gap in the tape record of the Nixon-Haldeman conversation three days after the Watergate break-in. Pending the outcome of the court's inquiry into the matter, judgment must be reserved as to who is responsible for this loss of significant evidence in the case.

This does not rule out some preliminary conclusions, and certainly has not prevented their being reached by a great many people. One is that prior explanations offered, first by White House lawyers and later by the President's secretary, Rose Mary Woods, simply do not hold water. Another is that, except in the unlikely event that the findings of a panel of experts are successfully challenged, we now know someone deliberately tampered with this tape.

A third conclusion naturally follows. It is that the credibility of President Nixon has been further undermined by the disclosure that there were at least five and perhaps as many as nine erasures on the tape. That in turn leads to still another conclusion which in our judgment is incontrovertible - that Mr. Nixon's credibility cannot be restored until he demonstrates, as former Attorney General Elliot L. Richardson put it, "that all the facts in his possession in the

Hang on to your helmets

WASHINGTON — Get ready for a shock. The rumor on Capital Hill is that the defense budget for fiscal year 1975 will be $93 billion. This will be up from the actual spending for the current year of $79 billion.

That is a startling measure of the inflation that is spiraling upward so fast. For the $93 billion, if that is the figure unveiled in coming weeks, includes no new developments. It covers only on-going programs. The increase is due largely to inflationary price rises and to pay increases.

AN APPRAISAL by the congressional joint economic committee put the total for '75 at $86 billion. But this did not include possible new obligatory authority of $5 billion to $6 billion which may be included in the budget request.

The Department of Defense is expected to come in shortly with a supplemental request of $2.3 to $3 billion. That would go in part for aid to Israel and South Vietnam. It is also to upgrade strategic readiness which was revealed by the Middle East alert as lagging.

But this is only part of the shock to come. The likelihood is for massive new weapons systems that will cost many additional billions of dollars. That can be surmised from the Delphic utterances of Secretary of Defense James R. Schlesinger about "retargeting" of America's nuclear striking force.

Translated from the dense vocabulary of the nuclear weaponeers, this signifies a whole new nuclear strategy that has thus far been only dimly perceived outside the small circle of those who determine these matters. It would be hard to exaggerate the portentous nature of this change for it means a shift from mutual deterrence to a counterforce.

Retargeted ICBM missiles would be capable, in theory at least, of knocking out Soviet silos rather than destroying Soviet cities in response to a nuclear attack on the United States. This opens the way to a "nuclear war fighting capability," as the war planners call it, rather than deterrence which has kept the peace for 20 years.

Even if retargeting could assure that military targets would be hit, and this is far from certain, there is no assurance that a nuclear exchange would not go on to destruction of the cities of each side. And the Soviet Union would have reason to believe that the counterforce coming into being might well be a first strike capability. Thus, the whole nuclear structure would be shaken to its foundations with consequences impossible to foresee.

With retargeting requiring a vast array of new nuclear weapons costing billions of dollars, the prospect for any agreement out of SALT II which resumes in Geneva at the end of the month are dimming to the vanishing point.

It has long been true that what one side gets the other side is sure to strive for and so the see saw goes onward and upward.

A STRANGE commentary is how little any of this gets through to the public. One reason may be that minds are closed to what seems beyond the comprehension of the average person and so fearful in its meaning that the only recourse is to shut it out. So Schlesinger and the top level weaponeers have the field to themselves. As the New York Times put it in a powerful editorial:

"The strategy of deterrence has preserved the world from nuclear holocaust for two decades. Unpleasant as it is to live under the nuclear sword of Damocles, the wisdom of trading it in for this dangerous new doctrine is highly doubtful — and surely deserves more national debate than it has yet received."

But one thing the average citizen does understand and that is the rapidly rising cost of everything from a gallon of gasoline to a loaf of bread. While the Defense Department has reduced its fuel needs, a spokesman recently testified that the Pentagon's fuel bill would go up this year between $750 million and $1 billion. Military inflation across the board is contributing to the cost squeeze that hits every household budget.

Can this go on into the indefinite future? No one in the Administration up to this point has an answer. A great deal of hand wringing goes on as each month's figures show the spiral up once again.

Big military spending is sure to be another kicker.

Perk enters GOP race for Senate

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)—Mayor Ralph J. Perk announced Thursday he will seek Republican nomination for the U.S. Senate now held by another Cleveland, Howard M. Metzenbaum.

The three most important issues in his campaign will be integrity in government, inflation and the energy crisis, Perk said.

He also said that he will "continue to devote myself to my duties as mayor" but that during the last month of the campaign, "I will take myself off the payroll."

He spoke from an improvised conference table in the frostwhitened front yard of his near East Side home, apologizing to shivering newsmen that the house wasn't large enough to permit holding the meeting indoors — and then invited reporters in for coffee.

From the shallow yard fronting on a narrow street, Perk can look out over the smoky industrial centers in the deep valley of the Cuyahoga River.

Mrs. Perk and two of their children were with the mayor as he spoke to newsmen.

Metzenbaum, a wealthy businessman and attorney, took office earlier this month on appointment by Gov. John J. Gilligan to replace William Saxbe, who became attorney general. Metzenbaum has said he will seek election to the post.

Living together OK with students

ITHACA, N.Y. (AP)—Most of the 300 students surveyed at Cornell University believed living with someone of the opposite sex without being married was an acceptable practice, a researcher says.

About one-third of those surveyed admitted sharing a bedroom with a student of the opposite sex, said Prof. Eleanor Macklin of Cornell's State College of Human Ecology.

Cohabitation was defined as "sharing a bedroom (and/or a bed) with someone of the opposite sex four or more nights a week for three or more consecutive months."

Only 7 per cent of the students who responded to a 32-page questionnaire said they would not live with someone of the opposite sex given the proper partner.

"Contrary to much older generation opinion, spending the night together, even in the same bed, need not imply a full sexual relationship," she said.

Daylight time confuses barman

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP)—Daylight Saving Time confused him and that's why he kept his bar open an hour past the legal closing time on Jan. 6, Willie Perry told the City Alcohol Commission.

"I told the ladies to set the clocks backward instead of forward that night," said Perry, manager of the Manhattan Club.

He testified Wednesday at a hearing on whether his license should be lifted.

Police said their visit was on the morning year-round Daylight Saving Time took effect, but the commission suspended the club's license for a week.

Hal Boyle . . . Down Memory Lane

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) — Memory is man's greatest crutch and most dependable hope.

When times are bad, he is cheered by remembering worse days he survived and found joy again. Memory tells him there is no reason the miracle cannot be repeated. And so, as memory deepens, so does hope.

You've got quite a heartfelt of memories yourself if you can look back and remember when —

Herbert Hoover was perhaps the most admired man in America for his relief work among the refugees of World War I.

The only time the average man went to a dentist was when he had to have a tooth pulled. If it proved a real tug-of-war, the dentist would sometimes reward the patient with a free shot of bourbon or rye.

About all that young boys knew of the mysteries of sex they learned from watching a girl's school gym class work out in middies and bloomers.

Doctors never had to worry about running out of gasoline as they drove horses and buggies.

People began to gossip about a young couple if they went to an amusement park and made more than two trips through the Tunnel of Love.

Your literary tastes were regarded as pretty low if you were seen reading a paperback book.

Dogs were born and lived out their lives without ever having to undergo the indignity of wearing a collar and leash.

During the summer in small towns the liveliest place after midnight was in the local cemetery.

During winter at least a third of the pupils in the nation's grammar schools usually had runny noses.

Dear Abby:

ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

Stock market triggers blood pressure

DEAR ABBY: Every time the stock market goes DOWN 10 points, my husband's blood pressure goes UP 30 points. I'm afraid one of these days he's going to drop dead.

He has quite a lot invested in the market, but thank God, not everything. I never look at the stock market reports in the newspaper anymore. And when it comes on the news over the radio, I turn it off. I figure there's nothing I can do about it anyway, so why spoil my day, right?

I've been trying to get my husband to quit following the market so closely for his own good, but he won't listen to me. The minute he walks through the door I can tell how the market was by looking at his face. He's never had a real heart attack-only a "warning." Don't you think if he got out of the market altogether he'd live longer?

PEGGY

DEAR PEGGY: Not if he sold his stock at 40 and it went up to 120! If your husband follows (a) his doctor's advice, and (b) his broker's advice, he could be in good shape for a long time. Don't nag him.

DEAR ABBY: My sister fell in love with a guy who made her pregnant. When she told him about it he offered her money for an abortion but she refused because she didn't believe in abortion, so instead she went to a home for unwed mothers.

After she had her baby she was told she couldn't leave the hospital unless she signed some papers. They said the papers were nothing-just a routine matter, and she had six months to decide whether she wanted to keep her baby or give it up for adoption.

Of course she signed the papers and left. Two months later she went back to get her baby and was told that they have given her baby away! She is heartbroken now and is getting sick over it.

She went to the District Attorney and also to the lawyers at Legal Aid, and they either couldn't or wouldn't help her get her baby back. Abby, we aren't rich people but we would do anything to help her. Can you help us?

HER FAMILY

DEAR FAMILY: Yes. Please send me your name and address. Also the name of the home for unwed mothers where your sister had her baby.

DEAR ABBY: I just read in the newspaper where a 238-pound woman wanted to get down to 124 pounds so she could wear a bikini like her teen-age daughter, so she had a dentist cement her teeth together to keep her from eating. She'll live on liquids until she gets down to the desired weight, then the dentist will remove the cement from her teeth.

Can you please find out who that dentist is, and how much he'd charge to do the same thing on my wife? Her problem isn't eating, it's talking.

HAD IT IN NASHVILLE

DEAR ABBY: The dentist is in England. And I doubt if he'd do it for the reason you suggest.

Today In History

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Today is Friday, Jan. 25, the 25th day of 1974. There are 340 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On this date in 1915, Alexander Graham Bell spoke the first words on the first transcontinental telephone linking New York and San Francisco.

On this date: In 1579, the Union of Utrecht was signed. It marked the beginning of the Dutch Republic.

In 1802, Napoleon Bonaparte became president of the Italian Republic.

In 1831, the independence of Poland was declared.

In 1863, during the American Civil War, the first Negro regiment in the U.S. Army was formed.

In 1919, the Versailles Peace Conference voted in favor of the projected League of Nations.

In 1944, in World War II, the costly battle for Cassino, Italy began.

Ten years ago: A new U.S. communications satellite, Echo II, was launched from Vandenberg Air Force Base in California.

Five years ago: A string of tank cars carrying butane gas exploded in Laurel, Miss., devastating several blocks of buildings and injuring 19 persons.

One year ago: The body of former President Lyndon B. Johnson was returned to Texas for burial in a country cemetery after tributes in Washington.

Thought for today: It is always a silly thing to give advice, but to give good advice is absolutely fatal — Oscar Wilde, Irish writer, 1854-1900.

Eye commodity control system

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress and the Nixon administration are working toward a comprehensive reform of the regulatory system for the nation's booming commodity-exchange business.

During more than a year of sharp price swings, calls for overhauling the commodity-exchange law intensified in Congress. A bipartisan panel of farm-state congressmen then drafted a compromise bill in a drive to strengthen trading regulations.

The Brazen Serpent

And Moses made a serpent of brass, and put it upon a pole, and it came to pass, that if a serpent had bitten any man, when he beheld the serpent of brass, he lived. —Numbers 21: 9

One of God's favorite adjectives in discussing recalcitrant Israelites with Moses was "stiffnecked" — certainly an understatement in view of their many trespasses against Him and His long-suffering forbearance. But once again, shortly before setting foot on the Promised Land, they rebelled. And, once again, the Lord found punishment necessary. He sent a plague of serpents which destroyed thousands. Again Moses prayed for his people and again the Lord listened. He instructed Moses to carve a serpent of brass and set it up so that all who were bitten but still lived, might gaze upon it and be saved. And thus it was.

Presbyterian Church hears yearly report

The Congregation of First Presbyterian Church met on Sunday evening, January 20 in Persinger Hall for the annual Report and Review. The meeting was conducted by the pastor, Gerald Wheat, with a number of reports and items of business discussed. Larry Moss was elected to fill the unexpired 2 year term of Frank Bracy on the Session of the church.

The Pastor's Report by Rev. Wheat showed 51 worship services, 9 weddings, 22 funerals, 23 baptisms, 129 meetings of boards in the church and in Presbytery work, 916 pastoral calls, 23,500 miles traveled in pastoral work, 53 counselling sessions, 14 offices held in community and Presbytery, 30 programs begun or continued in the life of the church, and church use by over 26,000 people in 900 separate meetings, during 1973.

The session report, given by clerk of the session, Bill Carson, showed 53 new members received, and a net increase of 26 members to a total of 690. Among the important programs at the church during the year was the sponsorship of Scout Troop 112 which has grown from 8 boys to 50; the church family camping trip involving 94 youth and adults in June; employment of a youth coordinator; Children's Church, and support of the work of the Gideons and the County Chaplain's program at the hospital.

The Trustees Report was given by Walter Seifried, past president of the board, showing that the major work of the board during the year was the installation of a new heating system and new carpeting and pews in the sanctuary. Many small projects were carried out for the improving of the church property.

The Deacons report, given by Tom Rankin, past President of the Board, showed many programs caring for the sick, shut-ins and newcomers; aid for transients; and receptions for new members and the sponsoring of Family Night programs.

The Women's Association report was given by Mary Marchant, past president of the Association, which totals 161 members. Many programs of concern both locally and world-wide were carried out during the year.

Church school report by George Robinson showed that there are 12 classes presently, all with teachers and assistants, including a nursery class for babies during the church school hour. Kaye Bartlett serves as assistant superintendent of the school.

Various class reports were given by adult classes, concerning their activities during the year.

The church treasurer, Perse Harlow, reported receipts into all funds of the church totalled more than $107,000. This included not only the regular budget of the church but the repair and maintenance as well.

The meeting concluded with a look into the future by the pastor, pointing out several programs and projects toward which the congregation should be looking. These include repair of the stained glass windows, and provision for increased choir facilities.

Church sponsored film starts soon

"Time to Run," a new film that is a mixture of problems and solutions, is scheduled to open at the Fayette Cinema Jan. 30. The full-length feature is scheduled to run through Feb. 5.

"Time to Run" allows the viewer to become involved on any one of more of three different levels. Viewed purely as entertainment, it's the story of a young man's attempts to sabotage the nuclear generating plant, conceived, designed and managed by his father. He strongly feels that the plant is a threat to the environment, and he puts his feelings in action.

Viewed on an emotional level, it is the drama of conflicts that are tearing a family apart — conflicts that develop between husband and wife, and between father and son. In an attempt to find freedom from the ever-growing hostilities, the son takes to the road, hoping to discover some meaning in his confused life.

Approached from a religious perspective, "Time to Run" is also a story of friction between the youth and his girlfriend. She has discovered a spiritual dimension in her life, and this aspect is very confusing to him since he has little time for "a God who would allow war, hatred, and suffering on earth." But his life is shattered by an avalanche of personal problems, and he finds himself at a Jesus people gathering where he glimpses the possibility of a new life-style.

Regardless of what the viewer draws from the film, it was made for families to attend — together.

Tickets are $1.50 in advance (through Jan. 28) and $2 at the door.

Every winter, LANDMARK® delivers millions of gallons of heating oil and now it's vital that every gallon be used with care.

There are many ways to conserve fuel, and save money too. Closing drapes cuts heat loss thru windows, so does proper insulation, weatherstripping, storm doors and windows. Caulking shut the cracks and openings is a must.

Set your thermostat at a comfortable level and leave it there. Moving it up and down only makes your furnace use more fuel and costs rise significantly for every degree above 70. Close off unused rooms, keep attached garages closed. Use a humidifier; less heat is required for comfort if humidity is kept at 40 to 50%.

Have your heating system checked regularly, faulty or poorly adjusted equipment wastes fuel. Clean the air filters twice a year, lubricate motors and pumps. Look around home, you'll probably find other fuel-saving ideas. And for burner service, call us.

Zesty Chinese-style spareribs

BARBECUED SPARERIBS — They're baked in the oven and benefit from a Chinese-style marinade.

Dipping into a Chinese cookbook, a friend found an interesting marinade for barbecued spareribs and from it concocted her own recipe. When we tried the adaptation we thought it was delicious and easy to prepare and so we are passing it along to you.

CHINESE-STYLE BARBECUED SPARERIBS

2-3rds cup soy sauce
2-3rds cup light or dark corn syrup
1-3rd cup dry sherry
1 clove garlic, minced
1 teaspoon monosodium glutamate, if desired

1/2 teaspoon pepper
1/2 teaspoon ground cinnamon
1/2 teaspoon ground cloves
1/2 teaspoon anise seed

4 pounds fresh pork spareribs, cut into individual whole or half ribs.

In a small mixing bowl thoroughly stir together the soy sauce, corn syrup, sherry, garlic, monosodium glutamate (if used), pepper, cinnamon, clove and anise. Pour this marinade over the ribs; cover and refrigerate about 3 hours.

Cover bottom of shallow roasting pan with a small amount of water to prevent drippings from scorching. Place ribs on rack in roasting pan, reserving marinade.

Bake in a preheated 450-degree oven for 30 minutes. Remove pan from oven; remove ribs and rack and pour off water and fat; return ribs to pan and brush with marinade.

Reduce oven temperature to 350 degrees. Tightly cover pan with foil (or with roasting-pan cover if you have one) and bake 35 minutes, brushing with marinade twice. Remove foil (or other cover) and bake uncovered until crisp and tender — about 15 minutes longer.

Makes 4 servings.

To give piquancy to omelets, add grated cheddar, Swiss or Parmesan cheese. Use at least 1 tablespoon of the cheese for each egg used in the omelet.

Mrs. Cummins presented the program by reviewing the book "Currier and Ives' America" by Colin Simkin. She told that Currier and Ives were "printmakers to the American people" from 1830 to the 1880's when the nation was most picturesque. Their thousands of true to life prints furnish the only contemporary record of the American scene, rural and urban.

She also told of the 80 choice prints in full color which she had collected and displayed. This is a book or collectors prize for the elderly and children, a treasury of American tradition for the American family. Members appreciated her time in research to collect this display.

Mrs. Ralph Davidson and Mrs. Darlene Wagner of Springfield were guests.

Coeds find ad works well

MOUNT PLEASANT, Mich. (AP) — Four Central Michigan University coeds who advertised for husbands say the effort was nothing more than an attempt to razz a male chauvinist friend.

The classified ad the four seniors from Lake Orion, Mich., placed in the student newspaper Wednesday read:

"Wanted and desperately needed: Husbands for four senior girls who have only 15 weeks to hook one, since that's what we're here for."

The girls said they received 60 responses and phone calls from newspapers as far away as Philadelphia and Atlanta.

Though they denied it on Wednesday, the women conceded on Thursday the ad was a prank.

One said it was "an effort to get even with a male-chauvinist friend" who claimed the only reason women attended college was to find a spouse.

"We're really sorry we did it, because it's gotten out of hand," one of the coeds said. "We never thought it would be taken this seriously."

The four — Laura Rupert, Pam Whitlock, Peggy Taylor and Kathy Hauxwell — said they received calls from other CWU coeds asking that they be referred to any rejected applicants.

4-H Roundup

Mrs. Jeannie Anderson
4-H Assistant

4-H ADVISORS—HERE—THERE—EVERYWHERE !!
Enthusiasm is the mainspring for the Spring 4-H enrollment program.

Believe it or not, in today's busy, busy society, adults ARE concerned about what's happening to the younger generation. Many, however, don't realize what 4-H has to offer or what a vital contribution they could make as a volunteer 4-H club advisors. The job is challenging and rewarding.

Potential advisors are everywhere seated at a banquet, working in a restaurant, attending church, clerking in a store, going to a PTA or Welcome Wagon meeting, repairing cars, teaching school, or riding a bike. Basically each person has a special interest to share with others.

4-H is a voluntary, educational program designed to meet the needs and interests of boys and girls 9-19 years of age. The emblem is a four leaf clover with an H in each leaf. This symbol is well known, yet it means different things to different people. The first H-Head is learning to think, making decisions, and understanding the "why's". Heart-being concerned with the welfare of others, accepting responsibilities of citizenship, determining values and attitudes by which to live, and learning how to work with others. Hands-learning new skills, perfecting and developing pride in work. Health-practicing healthful living, protecting the well being of self and others, making constructive use of leisure time.

All of this is necessary for good personal development. Each leaf, each H, is vital to every individual.

What makes 4-H so different? 4-H is a real life experience. It has a place for all members in the family if they want to participate. Sometimes you can reach others through 4-H boys and girls.

What's it really all about? Boys and girls with a desire to "DO". Advisors with a desire to "GUIDE". These are the two most essential features of 4-H. Will you be one of these people and say, "Yes, I care about boys and girls, and I want to work with them." If you are interested in becoming a 4-H club advisor, contact the County Extension Office at 335-1150.

according to the monthly report of Police Chief Rodman Scott.

Of the 110 offense incidents, the most common were petty larceny, 30; burglary, 19; malicious destruction of property, 15; and grand larceny, 10.

During the month the department arrested 12 persons for drug offenses, nine for disturbing the peace, seven for disturbing by intoxication, and six for disorderly conduct.

The 54 criminal arrests for December 1973 is a marked increase over the 36 arrests for the same period in 1972.

TOPPING the aid and incident reports were 60 cases of theft, 37 domestic incidents, 31 disturbances, 21 burglaries and 21 cases of property destruction.

Reckless operation headed the list of traffic offenses during the month, with 19 arrested offenders. Driving under influence resulted in 10 arrests, as did red light violations. Eight persons were arrested for no operator's license and seven for failure to yield.

The 109 traffic arrests during December, brings the total for 1973 to 877. In 1972, 57 motorists were arrested during December and the total stood at 724.

Property damage resulting from auto mishaps during the month was estimated by Chief Scott at $20,672, bringing the total so far this year to $205,584.70. Damage for December 1972 was $19,279.

Value of property reported stolen during the month, totaled $7,253.73. Value of property recovered was $3,839.77.

Vandalism was responsible for a reported $170 damage in December 1973.

Automatic number identification slated at B'burg

BLOOMINGBURG — Telephone subscribers here will no longer have to repeat their telephone numbers to the operator when making long distance calls, as of Feb. 1.

Automatic number identification equipment, which will electromechanically identify the calling number, will serve all numbers with a "437" prefix. Installation of this equipment was completed about mid-January.

At the same time, the exchange's call-carrying and outlet capacities were increased.

Crop storage shows decline across Ohio

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio had less corn and wheat in storage on the first day of 1974 than it did at the start of 1973, but soybean stocks were up 36 per cent, the Ohio Crop Reporting Service said.

Corn in storage on and off the farm on Jan. 1 stood at 194 million bushels, down 10 per cent from the 217 million bushels on hand a year earlier. Stored wheat totaled 12.5 million bushels, or 45 per cent less than the 22.7 million bushels at the start of 1973.

But soybean stocks added up to 74 million bushels, compared to 54 million bushels a year ago.

Of the totals, still on the farm were 127 million bushels of corn, 875,000 bushels of wheat and 39 million bushels of soybeans.

Tax bill recommittal backed by Taft

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Robert Taft Jr., R-Ohio, voted with the majority Thursday when the Senate sent back to committee and almost certain death a bill containing an increase in personal income tax exemptions.

Sen. Howard Mtnzenbaum, D-Ohio voted against recommittal.

Shaul may seek state office

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)— Dennis Shaul, Ohio's 35-year-old commerce director, has submitted his name to the State Democratic Screening Committee as a possible 1974 candidate for secretary of state.

He said Thursday he was not making an official announcement yet, but will decide after meeting with the committee Saturday whether to seek the Democratic nomination in the May primary.

The committee meets at 2 p.m. Saturday.

Shaul, whose department was bombarded with unfavorable publicity last year as a result of an investigation into a bribery case, had indicated earlier he would shy away from a statewide race this year.

But he said even though that was a bad incident... "I think we handled it with real candor here. I believe people will look at the total record."

Shaul and his employees were cleared of any wrongdoing by a grand jury investigation. It led to a six-count extortion indictment against Anthony P. LaFatch, 66-year-old Akron real estate developer who collected $50,000 with a claim he could influence the commerce department in a $10 million stock issue deal.

The director said he has talked over his possible candidacy with Democratic Gov. John J. Gilligan, with whom he probably would share the state ticket if nominated, and said Gilligan was "most encouraging."

Shaul, a former Akron city councilman, said several factors influenced his decision, among them a desire to "bring about a change" in the secretary of state's office which has been held by Ted W. Brown, a Republican, for more than 23 years. He said he also decided to come forward after "several other people I hoped would run said they were noting to run."

The committee also may hear Saturday from Henry W. Eckhart, former Public Utilities Commission chairman and announced candidate for the lieutenant governor's nomination.

Name change slated for Lockbourne AFB

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Officials at Lockbourne Air Force Base confirm the name of the installation will be changed to Rickenbacker Air Force Base May 18.

Capt. Eddie V. Rickenbacker, the World War I flying ace and aviation pioneer, was born in Columbus. Rickenbacker died last year.

He said he may switch to the secretary of state race rather than remain as a candidate for lieutenant governor and run in "a field of nine."

The screening committee met earlier this month and recommended endorsements to the State Democratic Executive Committee which promptly affirmed them.

They included Gilligan and two other incumbents—Atty. Gen. William J. Brown and Treasurer Gertrude W. Donahey—for re-election; Thomas Ferguson for auditor, and Rep.

Richard F. Celeste, D-5 Cleveland, for lieutenant governor.

Also endorsed was Ohio's junior senator, Howard Metzenbaum of Cleveland, in his primary battle for the Senate nomination against John Glenn, the former astronaut.

Two other Democrats have announced for the secretary of state nomination. They are Cleveland John F. Kennedy, the 1970 nominee who lost to Brown by 254,000 votes among 2.8 million cast, and Beverly Ann Bingle, a former Gilligan assistant.

Nineteen members of the Washington C.H. Area Chamber of Commerce Board of Directors held a three-hour work session Thursday afternoon in the Benton Room at the Washington Hotel.

Chamber President Fred Domenico said the session resulted in an in-depth study and review of all Chamber program areas.

Reports and board consensus indicated the following areas will receive more attention in the coming six months: Chamber Ambassadors, public relations, recreation and transportation.

THE BOARD also announced that application is now being made to the U.S. Chamber of Commerce to participate in the national Chamber Accreditation Program Evaluation. Accreditation involves a review of all Finances and by-laws revision was discussed and both areas will receive board attention in the immediate future.

Bruce Galloway, 1974-75 president-elect, indicated that this year will see a carryover of several ongoing programs, and he also outlined additional areas of involvement the Chamber might consider.

Terrorists convicted; ouster seen

ATHENS, Greece (AP) — The Greek government is expected to deport two Palestinian terrorists who were sentenced to death Thursday for killing four Americans and an Austrian in an attack at the Athens airport last summer.

A five-man court found Arid el Shafik, 22, and Khantouran Palaal, 21, guilty of premeditated murder "of a repulsive nature" and several other charges and handed down 27-year prison terms in addition to the sentence of death before a firing squad.

But police sources said it was "highly likely" that the government would hurry them out of the country, just as it did Arab terrorists given prison terms in two previous trials.

"It would be safer," said one observer, recalling the terrorist attempt to free Shafik and Palaal last month in which 32 persons were killed at the Rome and Athens airports.

The Greek government has also been courting the Arab governments to insure unhindered oil supplies for its growing refineries.

Shafik and Palaal, both Jordanian born and members of the Black September organization, were also convicted of being "dangerous for public order," the attempted murder of 46 persons, illegal detention of 46 hostages, causing damage to foreign property, illegal possession of arms and illegal use of arms.

Rain slows in southeast; floods seen

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Rains diminished in the Southeast today, but the danger of flooding posed a problem from the middle Mississippi Valley through Ohio and lower Michigan as snow melted.

Most of the nation, however, enjoyed fair weather with sunshine from California through most of the Plains into the Ohio Valley.

The rains and thunderstorms hitting areas from southeastern Texas to the central Eastern Seaboard left 2 inches of rain in many areas of the South.

Central and northern Louisiana were particularly hard hit Thursday and flood watches were posted. Up to 9 inches of rain saturated Sabine Parish in the past two days.

The Missouri River was blocked by ice jams, causing some runoff problems as snow melted.

A rainstorm in the Northwest moved inland spreading rain and snow into the northern Rockies and Montana. Spokane, Wash., was dampened with 2.9 inches before dawn.

Rain and snow also were scattered from the northern Plains to Wisconsin.

Temperatures before dawn ranged from zero at Alamosa, Colo., to 76 at Key West, Fla.

A Trinity College student, Josiah Blackwell, Class of 1866, played for the first baseball club of Hartford, Conn., the "Charter Oak Nine."

VICTIM'S MOTHER RESTRAINED—Rescue workers attempt to keep Mrs. Elaine Mowrer of Loveland, Colo., from entering the Coors grain storage building in Longmont, Colo., after her son Steven, 19, suffocated when accidentally buried under tons of barley grain. It took rescue workers 3½ hours to recover the body.

Heart branch sets goal

The Fayette County Heart Branch has set a goal of $9,938.00 for its 1974 Heart Fund drive, for which plans are currently underway.

Funds collected during February, American Heart Month, will support educational and community programs as well as research, a prime function of the Heart Association, according to Bill Hendren and Jim Ward, Heart Fund campaign chairmen.

"Heart and blood vessel diseases afflict one out of every eight Americans," they noted. "They will claim more than one million lives this year, 53 per cent of all deaths in the U.S. Through research and other programs, we can reduce premature death and disability from heart disease."

During Heart Month, Fayette counties will join over two million Heart Association volunteers throughout the country to distribute heart-saving information and collect funds to support programs of the Heart Association.

Hendren and Ward reported that headway is being made. "For instance," they said, "since the early 1960's, coronary care units (CCU's) have reduced the in-hospital death rate from heart attack by about 30 per cent. Central Ohio hospitals were among the nation's pioneers, establishing CCU's in 1964."

The Central Ohio Heart Chapter has also played an active role in the improvement of the emergency care system in Central Ohio. As a part of the Heart Saver program, the Central Ohio has been active in training paramedical personnel, nurses and laymen in various levels of cardiopulmonary resuscitation.

Hendren and Ward explained that the concept of the "Heartmobile," a mobile CCU, was supported here from the beginning. "Currently, paramedical personnel, operate several medic units in Franklin and Van Wert counties. It is estimated that these specialized mobile coronary units save 10-20 lives a month."

"But despite these achievements in the fight against the nation's number one killer," they added, "more help is needed. Please give generously when your Heart volunteer calls."

Skylab astronauts mark 1,000 orbits around earth

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP) — Skylab 3's astronauts, the first men to orbit the earth 1,000 times, began their final two weeks in space today and set a space endurance mark that might stand for a decade.

At 1:47 a.m. EDT, Gerald P. Carr, William R. Pogue and Edward G. Gibson each established a mark for the most time spent in space by an individual.

The previous mark of 69 days, 15 hours, 45 minutes had been held by Alan L. Bean, who logged his time on two flights, the 59½-day Skylab 2 trip and the 10-day Apollo 12 moon-landing mission.

Carr, Pogue and Gibson have recorded all their space time on this one journey. Ten days ago they surpassed the single mission record of the Skylab 2 crew, set last September aboard the same space station.

On Thursday, the Skylab 3 astronauts also became the first men to orbit the earth 1,000 times and set their sights on their goal of 84 days. They are to splash down in the Pacific Ocean two weeks from today, on Feb. 8.

To date they have traveled more than 28½ million miles and their hoped-for 12-week record is expected to hold up for several years.

Skylab Program Director William C.

Schneider gave the crew a go-ahead on Thursday for seven more days in space, through Jan. 31.

An ailing control gyroscope is the only major problem aboard the 85-ton station as it sails into the final two weeks.

But the gyro performance steadied somewhat Thursday, prompting Flight Director Neil Hutchinson to say, "I am much more optimistic about it today than I was yesterday."

The Chiricahua Mountains of southeastern Arizona, green islands in a sea of semi-arid grasslands, were created millions of years ago by a series of volcanic eruptions.

GM lays off 75,000 workers

DETROIT (AP) — With sales of its large cars slumping, General Motors has announced another round of major production cutbacks.

GM said Thursday the reductions will idle 75,000 assemblers in 14 plants and an indefinite number of GM component parts workers between now and April 1.

Hardest hit will be Michigan, where almost 50,000 workers are scheduled to be laid off.

It is GM's second major group of layoffs since Jan. 1.

GM laid off 86,000 workers, 38,000 indefinitely, in the period between Jan. 7 and today. December layoffs idled 135,000 workers. GM's normal United States production employment is about 420,000.

Many of the workers affected will receive up to 95 per cent of take-home wages through unemployment compensation and a pay protection plan in GM's contract with the United Auto Workers, the company said.

GM's sales figures for the first 20 days of this year show 128,896 units sold, compared with sales of 226,032 units during the same period in 1973. GM accounted for more than half of the domestic cars built and sold in the United States last year.

GM termed all of the layoffs, which involve home plants for the Buick, Pontiac, Cadillac and Oldsmobile divisions as well as 10 assembly division facilities, as temporary furloughs.

But a GM spokesman conceded some layoffs predicted for component parts workers, as opposed to assembly line layoffs, may be indefinite. Corporate spokesmen would not estimate how many of these manufacturing division layoffs there might be.

Altogether, 14 off 22 GM assembly plants will be shut down.

Relations with Arab world boosted by archeologist

HIGHLAND HEIGHTS, Ky. (AP) — A noted U.S. archeologist says relations with the Arab world could be cooled through U.S. assistance in the unearthing of the ancient city of Carthage.

Dr. Alfonz Lengyel, a professor at Northern Kentucky State College who will head a U.S. team in the archeological dig, said "our scientific and humanitarian effort in saving the ruins of Carthage" could be a major diplomatic move.

He said the fragile relations with the Arabs could be improved in much the

Tobacco prices above year ago

RIPLEY, Ohio (AP)—Farmers received an average $14 per hundred pounds more this year than last year for their tobacco in Ohio's only tobacco auction, which closed Thursday.

The seven-week session brought an average price of $92.99 compared with last year's average of $78.42. But only 7.5 million pounds were sold this year compared to 10.5 million last year.

Sales the final day were 25-340 pounds for $20,710, an average of $81.73 per hundredweight.

The Pan American Games were first held in Buena Aires in 1951.

same way the exchange of table tennis teams between the U.S. and China served as a breakthrough.

"We really need all the friends we can get," said Lengyel, who emigrated from Budapest, Hungary, 17 years ago. He said he has hopes the state department and Henry Kissinger will help secure funds for the project.

He said the dig will begin May 15 near Tunis, the capital of Tunisia in North Africa.

British, French and Italian university scientists are also taking part in the six-week project.

Carthage, a powerful foe of the roman Empire, was destroyed by the Romans in 146 B.C.

Lengyel said the U.S. work includes the Punic cemetery and nearby Roman and Byzantine sites.

"The cemetery should yield information enough that we can reconstruct the whole sociology of Carthage," he said.

A noted Hungarian archeologist has agreed to participate, Lengyel said. "He will be able to analyze the nutrition of the people and even tell from what diseases they suffered."

Lengyel said an agreement has been reached with the Tunisian government which allow the Americans to keep any artifacts of which duplicates are discovered.

SHOULD PRESS FOR DATA — Former Watergate Special Prosecutor Archibald Cox said at a news conference in Amherst, Mass., that the House Judiciary Committee should "press the special prosecutor (Leon Jaworski) a little harder" for data on Watergate. Cox thinks that "there is room for a good deal of refinement" as to what Jaworski "can supply and can't properly supply."

Ambulance service to keep operating

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Service to more than 25 cities will be continued by members of the Ohio Ambulance Association despite an auditor's ruling declaring existing contracts invalid.

The association's president, Donald P. Doepping, said Thursday members agreed to continue the service until a dispute is involved.

The auditor ruled earlier this week that municipalities can't contract for ambulance services. That has to be done by county commissioners, he said.

Doepping said service will continue as long as it's economically feasible.

NAM chairman sees better times ahead

By JOHN CUNIFF AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — Donald Gaudion, the new chairman of the National Association of Manufacturers — NAM — describes himself as a professional optimist with an inclination to view the worst of times as the prelude to the best of times.

The present "down-at-the-mouth attitude" of Americans, he maintains, is probably the gestation in disguise of brighter times, a period in which the nation's energies and resources are being gathered for another push forward.

"Democracy has moods and cycles," he said. "We seem to be either at the top of the world and to have all the answers or we fall to a point where everyone's confidence is shattered."

Gaudion's main job remains as chairman and chief executive of the Sybron Corp., a Rochester-based multinational heavily involved in the health care field, a rapidly growing company whose sales last year reached about $400 million. He will have the NAM spot for one year.

Two years ago, approaching 60, he relinquished some of Sybron's day-to-day activities to his president, William von Berg, and now can devote more time not only to NAM but to 15 other groups, three bank directorships and four industrial directorships.

Gaudion's interests are broader than one might attribute to the stereotype of an NAM man. He belongs to a small group called the Philosophers' Club, for example, and is chairman of the University of Rochester. He believes that "the basic changes of society begin in academia."

"I can't be accused of being a Babbitt type — of only seeking profits," he said. "I believe business people must get a broader understanding and approach to social problems."

"In fact," he continued, "the reason I joined the NAM is that it had an image of super-Babbitts," an image he believes has changed and will continue to change. "We're not quite as narrow as generally portrayed."

He foresees "two or three years of high level economic chaos" — productive, but afflicted by inflation and shortages. But he is convinced that good will come of it.

Bailey continues to lead scoring

Kevin Bailey—Hillsboro—continues to lead the top scorers in the South Central Ohio League in both SCOL games and overall. The firecracker guard has compiled 226 total points through 12 games for a 18.8 average in all games and a 20.5 mean in SCOL games. Slipping into the No. 2 position this week was Washington C.H.'s Doug Phillips. The flashy sophomore tallied 43 points last week and upped his average to 16.7 overall and 17.1 in SCOL contests.

Hanging onto the third spot in overall scoring was Miami Trace's Dave Persinger. The bulky center is averaging 16.5 points overall in 11 games. Madison Plains scoring ace Dave Joslin bounced into the fourth position with a 44 point output this past week while Greenfield's Bill Flynn holds down the fifth spot with a 14.5 average.

In SCOL games alone Bailey is the leader followed by Phillips and Washington C.H.'s Jeff Wallace. Wallace has played in only three SCOL games but holds down a 17.0 mean. Persinger has a tight grip on fourth place with a 15.6 average and Greenfield's Steve Willett is fifth with a 14.6 count.

Team statistics have Miami Trace the leading offensive team averaging 65.2 points per game while Circleville still leads the defensive category allowing only 56.1 points to be scored. Hillsboro is the second highest scoring club clicking along at a neat 64.9 points per outing and Washington C.H. possesses the second stingiest team giving up 60.1 points every four quarters.

LAST SEASON FOR AARON?—Atlanta Braves star Hank Aaron listens to a question during a press conference in New York. Aaron said the 1974 season almost certainly will be his last as an active player. Aaron is one home run away from Babe Ruth's record on 714 career home runs.

MT girls down WCH

The Miami Trace Panther girls panted Washington C.H. 40-26 Thursday evening on the losers home court. The Panthers led the whole game after a 10-4 first quarter lead. Second quarter finished with Miami Trace holding a 19-12 lead and complete control.

Washington C.H. just didn't have the experience Miami Trace had and turnovers and mental mistakes spelled doom for the Lionettes.

Leading the Panthers attack was Cindy Hoppes with 13 points and Sue Connors with 12. The Lions were paced by Betsy Krieger with nine points and Diane Lewis collected eight.

Score by quarters:

MT	10	9	9	12	40

Crenshaw, Kite tie in golf

SAN DIEGO (AP) — "We're good friends," Ben Crenshaw said with a nod toward Tom Kite.

"But we know what competition is. We're gonna try to beat each other's brains in."

Crenshaw and Kite, both residents of Austin, Tex., former teammates at the University of Texas and golfing rivals for a decade, matched sparkling, seven-under-par 65s Thursday and tied for the top spot in the first round of the $150,000 Andy Williams-San Diego Open.

They shared a one-stroke lead over Homero Blancas, Cesar Sanudo and rookie Richard Mast, who took advantage of the bright, warm sunshine to forge 66s.

Crenshaw, Kite, Blancas and Mast all played the 6,667 yard north course at the Torrey Pines Golf Club, the shorter and easier of the two courses being used for the first round of this event. Sanudo played the 7,047 yard south course. Both are par 72, but the north plays easier. The players will change courses for Friday's round and the last two days play will be over the south course.

Leonard Thompson had a 67 while the group at 68 included Gene Littler, Bobby Mitchell and John Lister of New Zealand.

Defending champion Bob Dickson was well back at 72. Johnny Miller, who swept the first three titles of the year, Jack Nicklaus, Lee Trevino, Tom Weiskopf and Arnold Palmer are not competing.

Wayne Clark signs pact with Bengals

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — Quarterback Wayne Clark, who had been flirting with the new World Football Association, has signed a contract with the Cincinnati Bengals of the National Football League.

Clark, 24, came to Cincinnati in the off season from San Diego in a trade for quarterback Virgil Carter.

River Downs faces extensive repairs

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — Local and state officials have ordered troubled River Downs racetrack to make extensive grandstand repairs. One called parts of the facility "fire traps."

Glen O. Haubrock, Hamilton County building inspector, said he listed several pages of violations to the track management after an inspection Nov. 26.

Still no positive winner seen in SCOL

By DENNIS STAPLETON
Record-Herald Sports Editor

Although it is still mathematically possible for either Miami Trace or Washington C.H. to lose out on the coveted South Central Ohio League crown the odds are heavily leaning in the other direction. The two Fayette County powerhouses share the top spot in the league with identical 6-wins 1-loss records - with the Lions holding the edge in overall games with a 10-3 record to an 8-3 mark for the Panthers.

The Lions single loss of the season was to the Panthers 51-50 on Miami Trace's home court while the Panthers only downfall was to Circleville 71-60 on the Tigers hardwood. Washington C.H. has defeated Circleville twice but must face the Panthers again Feb. 12 - which promises to be a typical Fayette County backyard brawl on Lions property. The steady Lions have clipped wins from Madison Plains - and face the Golden Eagles again this Friday with a much better team being aired for Madison Plains - Greenfield - who again are to be Lion opponents Feb. 1 - Wilmington - a team that gave the Lions a pretty good battle the first round - and Hillsboro. The Indians will be host to the Lions in the last game of the season.

Miami Trace on the other hand has defeated Greenfield - Feb. 5 will be the date the two teams meet again - Wilmington twice - Hillsboro - but must travel to play the Indians in Hillsboro's dead gym for the second match - and Madison Plains. Circleville spanked the Panthers in the first round by 11 points but the game was close until the closing moments and the Tigers seemed to have lost some zip since acquiring their fourth SCOL loss last weekend.

The closest team to either Miami Trace or Washington C.H. is Hillsboro. The Indians at this time are carrying a 5-3 SCOL record after the 73-63 loss to the Lions Tuesday. Circleville is next in line with a 4-4 mark and Greenfield stands fifth with a 3-4 chart. Madison Plains and Wilmington are almost assuredly out of the SCOL race with 1-6 and 0-6 records respectively.

This week's cage action involving SCOL teams is relatively light with just five games being played. Three games Friday night have six SCOL teams butting heads with Miami Trace taking the night off. Saturday night only two games will take place - both being non-loop clashes.

The headliner Friday in SCOL competition - if it can be called that - is Madison Plains travelling to Washington C.H. The Golden Eagles have improved since the season began and did have trouble with their shooting accuracy in the first round with the Lions but the ex-basement tenants shouldn't be much trouble for the Lions. Washington C.H. holds one of the best starting units in the SCOL and possesses the best bench of any team. Sophomore sensation Doug Phillips is constantly raising his average and Jeff Wallace is gaining his strength more every day. Chuck Byrd and Craig Shaffer handle the ball with effectiveness and Kenny Knisley can always be counted on for his share of the points. All of this adds up to one thing and that is clipped Golden Eagle feathers.

The second most important game - and possibly the most important - is Hillsboro at Wilmington. The Indians were scalped by Washington C.H. Tuesday but are still not out of the race. Washington C.H. and Miami Trace both have to play Hillsboro again - so a win is a 'must' for Hillsboro. Wilmington is out of the race completely but could play the spoiler role with a little improvement. The Hurricane's have established themselves as a better defensive team and are also picking up in points scored. The humbled Hurricane fought back last week against Miami Trace but ended up losing by 10 points after a valiant effort.

Greenfield at Circleville is the third game Friday and could also be important. Circleville needs the win desperately for any chance as does Greenfield. The Pickaway County Tigers have one more chance at beating Miami Trace but must rely on someone else to bump off the Lions. Greenfield though faces Washington C.H. and Miami Trace one more time and could help it's self tremendously with wins over the two leaders. The game is definitely a 'must' for both teams and the game is being played at Circleville - which is always a big factor when facing the Roundtown boys.

Saturday night's action has Mechanicsburg at Madison Plains - always a good game between to arch-rivals and Franklin Heights visiting Miami Trace. The Panthers may be enjoying the weekend off from head-to-head SCOL play but Franklin Heights will give Miami Trace a tough non-loop test. The Falcons are in the Metropolitan League with state ranked Teays Valley and always talented Hamilton Township - to mention just a few. Franklin Heights plays a fast aggressive game and should keep the panthers sharp for their next SCOL encounter Feb. 1.

San Diego purchase OK awaited

SAN DIEGO (AP) — Ray A. Kroc, McDonald's hamburger chairman who has tried for nearly a decade to buy a major league baseball club, looked forward today to quick National League approval of his purchase of the San Diego Padres.

Kroc, 71, agreed with C. Arnholt Smith Wednesday to buy the Padres for about $10 million, and spent Thursday talking to Mayor Pete Wilson and City Atty. John Witt about a lease of city-owned San Diego Stadium.

Kroc said National League President Charles "Chub" Feeney telephoned him Thursday to congratulate him and announce he would hold a club owners' meeting in San Francisco next Wednesday to vote on the sale.

Earlier this month, the owners voted 9-3 against an offer by Marjorie Everett, Hollywood Park's leading stockholder, to buy the Padres and keep them in San Diego.

The financially troubled Smith also tried to sell the team for $12 million to Washington, D.C., supermarket magnate Joseph Danzansky. Owners approved the deal, but Danzansky failed to meet a deadline to cover damages from lawsuits by the city of San Diego.

Bucks reach for tall Wisconsin

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)— Ohio State, struggling to remain a Big Ten basketball contender, faces its tallest opponent of the season Saturday at Wisconsin.

The Badgers, who have lost only to nationally-ranked Marquette and Indiana in 12 games, average 6-foot-

8½, headed by 6-11 twins Kim and Kerry Hughes.

"We don't even have one starter as tall as their average. And they're good, too," said Fred Taylor, whose Buckeyes are 2-2 to Wisconsin's 2-1 mark in the conference.

The contest is one of 28 for Ohio college teams Saturday, a day in which all five conferences involving state quintets are active.

Wisconsin is beating its opponents by an average of 19.1 points, fifth best in the nation this season. The Badgers also are trimming their foes by more than 15 rebounds a game.

"The teams that have stayed close to them have gone tooth and toenail on the board with them," Taylor said of Wisconsin.

"We're asking for volunteers," he added, chuckling.

Taylor said he would stick with the same five of 6-7 Wardell Jackson and 6-6 Steve Wenner at the forwards, 6-7 Bill Andreas in the pivot and 6-foot Larry Bolden and 6-3 Gary Repella at the guards.

Elsewhere, Ohio University, 4-0, tries to keep the sole Mid-American lead at Central Michigan, 1-3. If the Bobcats win and Toledo wins at Miami, the two would be tied for the top spot.

Western Michigan visits Kent State in the other MAC contest.

All three of Ohio's major independents are in action. Cincinnati, 13-4, entertains Brown, Dayton, 10-5, plays host to DePaul while Xavier, 4-8 goes to St. Joseph's, Pa.

In the Ohio Conference, Wittenberg, 6-0, risks its lead at Ohio Northern, 7-3. Closest pursuer Muskingum, 5-1, entertains Ohio Wesleyan, 1-7, and Capital, 4-1, has Mount Union, 5-2, as its visitor.

Other OC games have Kenyon, 2-5, at Wooster, 3-3, Denison, 3-3, at Heidelberg, 3-4, and Marietta, 3-2, at Baldwin-Wallace, 1-6.

Defiance is expected to keep its Hoosier-Buckeye Conference leadership with its ninth victory in 10 league games at Taylor, last with a 1-6 mark. Findlay, 3-6 in the H-BC, visits Bluffton, 4-4.

Hiram, pacing the President's Conference with five straight triumphs, draws a formidable assignment, a trip to 4-1 Case Western Reserve. John Carroll, 3-3, entertains Washington and Jefferson, 0-6, in another PC encounter.

In the Mid-Ohio, Urbana can move one jump ahead of Malone. The Blue Knights, tied with Malone for the lead at 4-1, go to Cedarville, right behind with a 3-2 record. Malone plays outside the conference at home against Wilmington.

Elsewhere, Wright State is at Otterbein, Oberlin at Thiel, Cleveland State at Fairfield, Akron at Youngstown, Rio Grande at Central State, Ohio Dominican at Walsh, Tiffin at Mercy and Ashland at Fredonia State.

Marathon ends sponsorship of 20 teams in auto racing

FINDLAY, Ohio (AP) — Marathon Oil Co. will no longer promote its fuel at racetracks in the Midwest or sponsor 20 teams in racing competition, a company spokesman said Thursday.

The spokesman said, "I think times have changed and we have to alter our programs to suit the needs and activities of what's going on."

He said the shortage of oil was part of the company decision, but not the only reason.

The action affects drag strips, oval tracks and sports car courses where Marathon was the sole supplier of gasoline and other petroleum products. The tracks are located in Ohio, Indiana, Kentucky and Michigan.

The company will also drop sponsorship of its racing teams in car, motorcycle and boat competition. The teams are primarily based in the Midwest.

"The decision to get out of racing follows a series of curtailments and alterations of program sales and promotion areas," the spokesman said.

The company will also drop promotion of Kings Island Amusement Park, near Cincinnati, and will no longer offer glasses featuring comic strip characters.

"We are not going to encourage people to drive from Detroit to Cincinnati to visit Kings Island," he said. "Times have changed. People are being asked not to drive that much."

Bill Koch, leader of a five-car sports racing team once sponsored by Marathon, said his team will reduce its travel this year.

Koch, owner of Sports Car Forum, Inc., of Columbus, said Marathon was the primary sponsor for his team. The company provided traveling expenses and petroleum products.

"Before, we wouldn't have blinked an eye to travel to Missouri, Minnesota or Georgia for a race," he said. "Now we will race closer to home, primarily Ohio, Michigan and Indiana."

Koch said he will also drop one of his cars from the team.

Marathon's decision "was expected, but we're not mortally wounded," he said. Suppliers of tires, sparkplugs and other automotive products will continue their support, he said.

However, Koch said, the people at Marathon "are businessmen who don't want to promote something that is not promotable."

OU goes after Central Michigan

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A victory over Ohio State has turned Ohio University's basketball season around and launched the Bobcats into the sole Mid-American Conference lead.

Ohio, which risks its 4-0 league record Saturday at Central Michigan, limped home with successive December road losses from Utah, UCLA and Southern California.

"Coming back after that trip, the Ohio State victory was a big one for our confidence," admitted Snyder, whose Bobcats have won eight of nine games starting with the 84-79 decision over the Buckeyes.

Should Ohio stumble at Central Michigan, 1-3, Toledo could surge into a share of the MAC lead by winning at Miami.

The Rockets, picked for last place, are second with a 3-1 record. The host Redskins are still a factor at 2-2.

Western Michigan, also 2-2, visits Kent State, last with an 0-4 league start, in the other MAC contest Saturday.

Nonconference games have Northern Illinois, 3-11, at home for Long Beach,

See no changes by Notre Dame

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Notre Dame Coach Digger Phelps isn't one to revamp a successful strategy. Especially one that garnered his team a stunning victory over previously top-ranked UCLA.

"We'll start the same team and we don't expect to change our style of play," Phelps said after the No. 1-ranked Fighting Irish tuned up for their rematch against the Bruins, defeating St. Francis 78-58 in college basketball Thursday night.

Notre Dame snapped UCLA's 88-game winning streak with a 71-70 decision at South Bend, Ind., last Saturday and will face the Bruins in a nationally televised rematch from Los Angeles Saturday night.

Adrian Dantley led all scorers with 22 points and John Shumate added 19 as the Fighting Irish jumped to a 10-4 lead and, except for two brief leads by St. Francis, controlled the pace all the way. Rick Hockeney led St. Francis with 14 points.

In other games involving teams in the Top 20, No. 12 Southern Cal beat Seton Hall 79-68, No. 13 South Carolina topped Fordham 79-63 and unranked Brigham Young upset No. 20 Arizona State 89-71.

Dan Anderson and Gus Williams, who tallied five key points in the final minutes, each posted 22 points in leading USC to victory.

Fordham held the lead until midway through the first half when South Carolina's Brian Winters, who scored 24 points, tied it at 16-16 and the lead changed hands until the Gamecocks assumed control with a 27-26 halftime edge.

Freshman Mark Handy scored 19 points and Doug Richards had 24 for Brigham Young, which broke open a tight game in the second half and built up a 74-63 bulge with 6:46 remaining.

In other college basketball contests it was: Florida State 78, Jacksonville 74; Creighton 60, St. Louis 54; Old

Bidding Quiz

You are the dealer, neither side vulnerable, and open One Diamond. Partner responds Three Diamonds. What would you bid now with each of the following four hands?

1. ♠AQ6 ♥KJ4 ♦KQ732 ♣KJ
2. ♠KJ ♥84 ♦A9863 ♠AQ95
3. ♠J3 ♥K75 ♦AJ92 ♠KQ86
4. ♠AQ8 ♥10 ♦J86542 ♠AK3

1. Four notrump. Partner will normally have 13 to 16 points in high cards, which puts you in the vicinity of the 33 points generally required for twelve tricks. A small slam is therefore virtually certain and, furthermore, a grand slam is possible.

Blackwood is by far the best way of discovering how many tricks you can make. If partner shows two aces by bidding five hearts, you quit at six diamonds. If he shows three aces by bidding five spades, you bid five notrump, calling for kings. If the response to this is six diamonds, you bid seven.

2. Four diamonds. Partner's jump raise is forcing and, by bidding four diamonds, you show no extra values. If partner then bids five diamonds, you pass.

But if partner evinces slam interest by bidding four hearts or spades, you bid five clubs. This cannot be regarded as a particularly strong bid, as you have already limited your resources by bidding four diamonds. Over five clubs, the rest is up to partner.

3. Three notrump. This is not a pleasant rebid, considering the spade weakness, but it offers the best chance for game, and that is the main consideration.

Five diamonds could be a better contract, but there is no sensible way of finding out. If you were to bid four clubs, you would be going past the three notrump level. The 4-4-3-2 distribution strongly suggests notrump, despite the danger in spades. If partner accepts three notrump, the odds strongly favor making it.

4. Four clubs. As you have such fine controls, a slam is possible despite the minimum high-card values. Partner may have something like:

♠72 ♥AJ4 ♦AK93 ♣Q875 and this close-to-minimum three diamond response would produce an excellent chance for six.

If partner's response to four clubs is four diamonds, you are entitled to make still another slam try by bidding four spades. If partner then bids five diamonds, declining your overtures despite two invitations, you would have to respect his wishes and throw in the towel.

Note that Blackwood is not employed here. Learning whether partner has one or two aces does not resolve the question of whether there are twelve tricks.

Speaking of Your Health...

Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

When a doctor wants to lose weight, what kind of diet does he try?

Mr. B.R., III.

Dear Mr. R.:

Physicians do not reserve for themselves any special diets, drugs or regimes when they want to get rid of excess pounds. They are often just as frustrated as their patients by their inability to start and stick to a fixed program of weight reduction.

They also have just as many "reasonable" excuses to explain their failure to attain the ideal weight level.

Because physicians are just as lax as their patients they suffer from the same heart, lung, kidney and vascular disorders that take such a heavy toll in modern society.

I find that impatience is the single major reason people fail to continue with a dietary regime. If they could only be taught to stick to a program long enough to lose the first five pounds, a continued loss of weight is almost assured.

The frustration of starting a diet with the typical "first-day blues" becomes most discouraging when there is no weight loss, and when there may paradoxically be even a slight gain. Then all good intentions, for doctors as well as patients, evaporate.

If a person contracts venereal disease and is allergic to penicillin, does that mean that there is no cure for him?

Mr. R.L., Conn.

Dear Mr. L.:

In cases of hypersensitivity to penicillin, there are a number of methods of treating a venereal disease.

Patients can be desensitized to penicillin so that it will not call forth unusual reactions.

If this is not feasible, erythromycin and tetracycline and other antibiotics can effectively be used for primary and even secondary syphilis. A great many other drugs can control and cure gonorrhea. The most important factor is prompt, intensive and uninterrupted treatment.

Foundation cuts funds

NEW YORK (AP) — The Ford Foundation says it plans to withdraw financial support from public television after a final major grant of about $40 million.

An official of the huge foundation, which has pumped about $250 million into public TV since 1951, said Wednesday the terminal grant program would extend over a period of four to five years.

"The trustees look upon public television as on the verge of real success," said David M. Davis, the foundation official in charge of public broadcasting affairs.

Davis said the Corporation for Public Broadcasting and the Public Broadcasting Service had been able to develop adequate outside means of support.

Davis indicated that the foundation wanted to shift grants to other areas where there were greater financial needs.

'Perfectly good' automobile taken away and crushed

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)—Mr. and Mrs. William E. Williams were crushed when they found out that police had towed away the "perfectly good" 1965 model car they bought last summer for $250.

The car was crushed too—literally—reduced to a nine-inch thick slab of scrap metal.

Patricia Williams said she and her husband had spent $400 on the car, including brand new tires which they bought just last month.

Recently, she said, the car developed starter trouble, and her husband suffered a leg injury and couldn't work on it.

So it had been parked in front of their near West Side home.

A friend needed a battery, so Mrs. Williams said she loaned it to him.

Tuesday, police reported, someone complained that an "abandoned" car was parked on the street. Acting under a 1971 state law which permits a car that is three years old, apparently inoperable and having "small value" to be towed away, police sent a tow truck. When Mrs. Williams discovered the car missing she called police and learned that the car had been taken to Brookside Auto Parts, where it was dispatched to the crusher, then apparently was taken to a steel mill.

She said when they went to Brookside a man offered to sell them back their tires.

The Williamses went to City Hall to complain to Mayor Ralph J. Perk.

They didn't get to see the mayor, but left the message with some of his aides that they think the city should pay for the car.

When they came out, Williams said, they found that police had ticketed their other car for a parking violation outside City Hall.

Armco sales hit record

MIDDLETOWN, Ohio (AP) — Armco Steel Corp. today reported record sales, earnings and production during 1973.

The company said it earned $107 million, or $3.38 per share of common stock, on sales of $2.3 billion.

In 1972 it earned $75.6 million, or $2.28 per common share, on sales of $1.9 billion.

The company said fourthquarter earnings were $27.7 million, or .86 per share, on sales of $662 million.

This compared with fourthquarter earnings the previous year of $21.5 million, or $.66 per share, on sales of $506.6 million.

In 1973, the company said, it produced 9.5 million tons of raw steel, 11 per cent more than the previous year.

Adhesives ban will be lifted

WASHINGTON (AP) — The U.S. Consumer Product Safety Commission announced today it will lift its 6-month-old ban on 13 brands of aerosol spray adhesives on March 1.

The commission said a panel of experts overwhelmingly supported the conclusion that there is no evidence to justify earlier concerns that the adhesives might cause chromosome damage and birth defects.

Withdrawal by Israelis accelerates

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Israeli army accelerated its withdrawal from the west bank of the Suez Canal today.

Egypt was also scheduled to begin moving some of its troops to reduce its forces on the east side of the waterway, but there was no confirmation that this movement had started on schedule.

The Israeli withdrawal began ahead of time, on Wednesday. The military command in Tel Aviv refused to disclose details of the movement today, and Defense Minister Moshe Dayan refused to let newsmen from Israel observe it.

But spokesmen confirmed that the troop movement was going ahead in accordance with the final disengagement agreement signed by the Israeli and Egyptian chiefs of staff at Kilometer 101 west of the canal on Thursday.

Military sources in Tel Aviv said all Israeli troops would probably be out of the city of Suez, at the southern end of the canal, by Monday.

The sources said the Egyptians would probably regain full possession of Suez by noon Monday, and the bulk of the Egyptian 3rd Army could start moving across from the east bank where it has been trapped since the October war ended.

Rose Avenue PTO reports on party

The Rose Avenue PTO reports that it realized $210 on the skating party it held Wednesday night at Roller Haven. The large crowd enjoyed free skating, cake and pizza walks.

Hospitals run short of supplies

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)—Cleveland area hospitals say they are running into problems finding some supplies, and they say other hospitals around the nation apparently are having the same problems.

Shortages of cotton goods, plastic items, some antibiotics and rubbing alcohol result from the energy crisis and transportation problems, said David Selkowitz, vice president of Shared Services, Greater Cleveland Hospital Association.

He said rubbing alcohol is distilled from petroleum but has "a very low priority" with refiners.

At University Hospitals, spokesmen said cotton products, including nurses gowns, patients' robes, and towels and wash cloths, are in short supply.

They said antibiotics and paper products also are hard to find.

William J. Snyder, director of supply services at University Hospitals, said the trend "is away from disposables and back to reusables—though they may cost more."

Now, he said, rubber is being substituted for plastic tubing, glass for some plastic connectors and metal for stop cocks where plastic has been used in recent years.

Fraud defendant appears in court

A Washington C.H. man was fined $100 and sentenced to five days in jail Thursday after he pleaded guilty in Municipal Court to a charge of check fraud.

Judge Reed M. Winegardner imposed the fine and sentence on Ronald L. Butcher, 29, of 339 Oak St., who passed a back check in the amount of $7.96 at Buckeye Mart. However, the judge suspended the jail sentence and $50 of the fine.

Gary Anthony, 27, Ohio 38, forfeited $50 on a charge of intoxication.

Six committeemen file for election

Six persons have filed for re-election to the Fayette County Democratic Central Committee. The committee will be elected at the May primary.

Those seeking to keep their spots on the committee are Raymond Loudner, precinct 3-D; Richard P. Kimmet, 1-C; Francis Langen, 1-A; Martha Sollars, Bloomingburg, Paint Township; Milbourne Barney, Lower Paint precinct, Paint Township; and Doris Riegle, south precinct, Union Township.

Those intending to file for a place on the May ballot have until Feb. 6 to do so.

3 bad checks, one accident investigated

The Fayette County Sheriff's Department and City Police had one of the quietest evenings in a long time: one accident was reported by police and three bad checks by sheriff's deputies, but as Sarah Brown, deputy sheriff and dispatcher, put it, "It's not that people are behaving any better, it's just that we haven't been told what happened yet!"

The accident involved a car driven by Nancy Ann Stone, 49, of 517 Third St. and a truck driven by Loren E. Noble, 54, of 105 River Rd., at the intersection of Main Street and Circle Avenue, at 1:22 p.m. Thursday.

Police reported moderate damage to both vehicles.

SeaWay Distributing, 1290 Clinton Ave., reported three bad checks to the Sheriff's Department: Dec. 26 - $39.28, Dec. 3 - $49.71 and Nov. 16 - $24.59.
